Collins Gets Go-Ahead In Space Walk

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Gemini 10 pilot Michael Collins was flashed an "all clear" today to stroll into space on a 50-foot lifeline and work with a "dead bird" target satellite left over from last March.

Using fuel from their own Agena space engine to make up some of the shortage on Gemini 10, command pilot John W. Young and Collins sped toward their distant target, expecting to catch up with it and begin Collins' space stroll at 5:56 p.m. (EST).

Space officials apparently decided the pungent gas that caused the Gemini twins' eyes to water during a 45-minute space stand Tuesday could be controlled.

The crew awoke about 8 a.m. after nine hours of sleep.

Young, a Navy commander, and Collins, an Air Force major, were told to use a secondary propulsion system in their Agena to change their orbital plane and adjust their height so they could jockey into a position to rendezvous with the old satellite.

WILLIAM C. Schneider, Gemini mission director, said: "We feel we have a reasonable chance of completing the double rendezvous even though we don't have as much fuel pad as we'd like. If the environmental control system problem straightens out, we also feel we can make the space walk."

At an after-midnight news conference, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials gave the venture outside priority over rendezvous if a choice has to be made.

The eyes of both astronauts watered and became irritated Tuesday while Collins conducted experiments with the hatch open, the upper half of his body thrust into space.

Neither could see, and Collins was forced to end the exercise after 45 minutes about 25 minutes early.

Lithium hydroxide, a chemical used to remove carbon dioxide from the cabin environmental control system, may have been responsible.

The problem cleared by the time the astronauts went to sleep at midnight EST but officials were concerned that perhaps it would recur when the hatch again was opened for the space walk.

IF ALL goes well today, the astronauts were to break off from the Agena about 2 p.m. and start closing in on another Agena left in orbit last March by the Gemini 8 astronauts.

Hitchhiking under the power of their own Agena, the Gemini 10 crew had first soared to a record altitude for manned flight at an orbital high point of 476 miles, then pulled back down close to 240 miles, just seven miles below the path of the old Agena.

They are to rendezvous within a few feet of Agena 8 around 5 p.m., and Collins is to step outside about an hour later. He'll use a gas-powered hand gun to propel himself Buck Rogers-style over to Agena 8 to conduct experiments.

Union To Debate Yearly Sessions

MIAMI BEACH (Special) — The question of holding international conventions in alternate years, instead of annually, will be debated by 205 delegates this afternoon as the 72nd convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters nears adjournment.

Launched Monday morning, the meeting may conclude Thursday instead of Friday, as originally anticipated.

Action is set this afternoon on Resolution No. 16, which calls for the conventions to be held biennially instead of yearly, citing the expense to both the international and the local unions.

FIFTEEN resolutions were acted on Tuesday afternoon, including one that provoked a floor fight before it finally was rejected.

The floor fight was touched off when the law committee recommended rejection of a resolution that would have required a special election to be held whenever a vacancy resulted in the offices of the third through the tenth vice presidents — if the unexpired term had more than six months to run.

THE DELEGATES voted, 78-100, to reject the law committee's recommendation. But after a long debate, when the chairman of the law committee moved to adopt the report, it was turned down 131-70, by a roll call vote.

In the interim, E. L. Wheatley, international president, explained to the delegates the heavy expense that would fall on both the international and the locals for conducting a primary election and a run-off election in the case of an officer's vacancy.

The rejection of the resolution means that the Executive Board will continue to make interim appointments in the case of vacancies. The appointee then will stand for the office

Frank, Mia Are Married In Surprise Ceremonies

Exactly where they went hasn't been determined.

Sinatra, 50, flew from London to New York and from there to Las Vegas, landing two hours before the wedding Tuesday. Miss Farrow flew in from Los Angeles in another of his company jets. The marriage is the first for the 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place."

Minutes after the wedding was performed before a few friends at the Sands Hotel the couple announced they were flying to New York and boarded their plane.

They filed no flight plan, and airport authorities in New York reported the jet did not land there. There were unconfirmed reports that they flew here instead, but airport officials had left the field by that time. Later, two jets similar to Sinatra's touched down at Van Nuys Airport, about 100 miles northwest of here, with no passengers aboard.

Sinatra maintains a home at this desert spa but the house was quiet and its windows dark Tuesday night.

A week ago Miss Farrow's mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, widow of movie director John Farrow, had announced that the wedding would be sometime between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The timing apparently caught friends and relatives by surprise. The family of neither was present.

Reapportionment Ordered Back To 1967 Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three-judge state appeals court has handed Ohio's tangled reapportionment problem back to the 1967 legislature.

The court ruled Tuesday that districts drafted by the State Apportionment Board were not valid under the state constitution.

The ruling will not affect the 1966 election. Those districts are being used this year under orders of a three-judge federal court, which said it imposed them to make sure Ohio had some firm districts for election of state senators and representatives this year.

The state court, ruling in a suit by State Sen. Frank King of Toledo, held that the Apportionment Board had no authority to draw new legislative districts more than once each decade. King, the Senate Democraitc leader, challenged the Apportionment Board's authority to create new districts after the federal judges ruled the former ones void under the federal Constitution.

The latest ruling—unless overturned by the Ohio Supreme Court—means the new legislature will have to come up with a redistricting plan to submit to voters. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's office said the ruling would be appealed.

Should the state court decision stand and the 1967 legislature fail to come up with a new plan which voters would approve, the federal court could order the same districts retained for 1968 elections. The federal judges retained jurisdiction in the Ohio reapportionment case, pending determination of the state constitutional question in state courts.

Saxbe's office actually drew up the districts promulgated by the Apportionment Board, comprised of the governor, state auditor and secretary of state. All those officials are now Republicans.

GOP state officials had contended the Apportionment Board was designated under the constitution to divide the state into legislative districts.

But the judges said: "It is the opinion of the court that the Ohio Apportionment Board acted without authority either from the constitution or the laws of this state" in reapportioning the state last year.

"For more than 100 years it has been the practice...for this board to meet once and only once each 10 years," said the decision written by presiding Judge William C. Bryant. "Their authority is to meet at each 'decimal period'....

"Having met and acted in 1961, it seems clear they lacked the power to hold a further meeting or to act on apportionment further for 10 years."

Rhodes Acts After Wild Disorders

Shooting, Looting And Firebombing Hit Hough Section

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — National Guardsmen armed with machine guns today patroled the battered and smouldering Hough section under a state of emergency order after two Negroes died in riots.

One Negro man was shot to death Tuesday night amid wild disorders.

Widespread shooting, looting, and firebombing by Negroes raged for four hours in the slums where a woman was killed by gunfire Monday night. Violence eased about midnight.

Gov. James A. Rhodes called up 1,500 troops and declared Tuesday night that "a state of tumult, riot and other emergency" prevailed in Cleveland.

Only a few hundred soldiers had reached the area by midnight. They patroled in jeeps carrying machine guns.

In a proclamation signed in Columbus, Rhodes commanded lawless elements to halt the rioting. He said more guardsmen would be sent in if needed — on request of authorities here.

The grim tally after the second night of wanton destruction:

Two killed by gunfire.

At least 24 injured, including 12 policemen, a firemen and five persons with gunshot wounds.

Ruined, blackened hulks of buildings, smashed store windows, heaps of tangled rubble—these were the ugly remains.

Harried firemen, often the target of rocks, got 52 calls. City Safety Director John N. McCormick said there were 37 or 38 fires Tuesday night.

Three Negroes, including two wounded by gunfire, were taken to a hospital Tuesday night. A white man was admitted with an eye injury. A Negro youth was treated for a forehead cut from a flying brick.

Council OK's 1967 Budget At Wellsville

City Could Begin Year With Deficit Under Estimates

The 1967 budget estimate, which indicates the city may start out the year with a deficit in the general fund, was adopted by Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

Mayor William Daugherty commented that the city will start the coming year with a deficit of $12,110 in the general fund if it spends all the actual appropriation calls for this year. This is because anticipated revenues for the coming year are less, he pointed out.

The 1966 expenditures, with the first six months figures based on actual costs and the last half estimated, total $129,815. The receipts, based on the same type figures, total $117,705.

The budget figures will be presented to the Columbiana County Budget Commission at Lisbon for approval.

Council received a letter from the county commissioners explaining the proposed county-wide water-sewage survey as it relates to Wellsville and asked that a resolution be adopted indicating the city's willingness to cooperate.

Council held a caucus meeting last Friday night with William McKenna, an engineer with W. E. Quicksall & Associates of New Philadelphia, the firm doing the survey in the county.

A section of Yellow Creek Township adjacent the city is included in the project study. The proposal is for the city to provide water to five sections of the township. The distribution system would be entirely new. It will be planned, constructed, maintained and operated by the county.

The proposed system would create a maximum future estimated demand of 350,000 gallons per day. The present daily consumption of water in Wellsville

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Three persons were killed and two others injured when a truck and a car collided at a rural intersection Tuesday about eight miles west of here.

Heavy Attacks

Missiles Aimed At U.S. Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam fired off a record 29 Soviet-made missiles Tuesday during heavy American air attacks near Hanoi and one of the rockets found its mark, the U.S. command reported.

One U.S. jet was lost to a surface-to-air missile and another was shot down by a Communist MIG17 in a dogfight 20 miles north of Hanoi, a spokesman said. American pilots claimed damage to three MIGs but saw none go down.

On the "peace" front, the South Vietnamese government with apparent U.S. blessing offered to end the war, including the air strikes against the Communist North, and begin talks toward reunification of North and South Viet Nam if the Viet Cong disband and Hanoi withdraws its troops from the South.

Except for the mention of reunification, the proclamation represented little new and reflected the new confidence in Saigon over the allied military position. Since the proposal demanded their capitulation, the Communists were certain to reject it.

In the ground war, U.S. jets and artillery pounded Communist positions in the jungles of the Song Ngan Valley just below the 17th Parallel frontier as 7,000 American Marines and South Vietnamese troops carried Operation Hastings into the sixth day. The main target of the aerial barrage was Hill 208, site of numerous bunkers and foxholes. A spokesman said 11 bunkers had been destroyed or damaged.

Ground fighting appeared to have tapered off against units of the North Vietnamese division which intelligence says recently infiltrated across the six-mile-wide demilitarized buffer zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

The Marines reported 332 Communists killed and the probable deaths of 549 more. A Leatherneck battalion that had borne the brunt of the fighting left the field.

In the only heavy engagement Tuesday reported by the U.S. military command, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division killed 51 Viet Cong in the Ho Bo Woods 21 miles northwest of Saigon. The U.S. command said the American company suffered heavy casualties.

The enemy force, in an unusual appearance in camouflaged uniforms and steel helmets, advanced within 15 yards of the U.S. infantrymen before being repulsed, a U.S. spokesman said.

Fears for the fate of American fliers captured in North Viet Nam increased with reports from Peking and Prague that the North Vietnamese ambassadors there had said the airmen would be tried as war criminals.

While U.S. officials and members of Congress warned in Washington of tough American response to mistreatment of the airmen, the North Vietnamese news agency published a letter by President Ho Chi Minh to American Socialist leader Norman Thomas promising humane treatment of the captives.

Phillis, Wife To Supervise Carroll Home

LISBON — Carroll County commissioners have hired Russell and Betty Phillis of Salem R. D. as superintendent and matron of the county home on Route 9, three miles north of Carrollton.

Formerly superintendent and matron of the Columbiana County Home, the Phillises have been operating a Butler Township farm since the commissioners dismissed him as superintendent last October. He had held the post since 1958.

The Phillises will assume their new duties Aug. 1, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haver, who resigned to accept supervision of the Seneca County Home near Tiffin.

Carroll Commissioners Roy A. Tressel, Russell Barrett and Wilbur Boggs met with Mr. and Mrs. Phillis after lunch Tuesday and voted to give them the positions. They will receive $4,860 annually in addition to living quarters and food.

The Carroll County Home was constructed in 1954 and averages between 50 and 55 residents. The operation includes a county farm.

Nurse Visits Speck's Room In Death Quiz

Attorney's Office Refuses Comment On 'Identification'

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he may have suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse Tuesday.

Was he the same man who had managed to subdue, gag, bind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?

Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed and praying as they were led, one by one, to their deaths, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune in today's editions both said Miss Amurao had identified Speck as the intruder.

However, the state's attorney's office refused to give any information on the confrontation or to comment on the newspaper reports.

Dr. William N. Norcross, the city jail physician, said in a medical bulletin that Speck may have suffered a heart attack shortly before the incident.

"There is an 80 per cent chance that Richard Speck suffered a coronary thrombosis sometime prior to 10 a.m. today (Tuesday)," Norcross said.

"Complete rest has been ordered as well as no interviews or visitors for the next 48 hours. The patient cannot be moved," he said.

Dr. Norcross said Speck complained of chest pains, was restless and was trying to sleep.

He said tests would be conducted today and Thursday to determine Speck's condition.

Dr. Norcross reported Speck's chest pains at a hearing Tuesday in the felony division of Circuit Court.

He said Speck was depressed

Woman Dies, Five Hurt At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) —A Pennsylvania woman was killed and five persons, including her husband and two grandchildren, were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on Market Street here today.

Mrs. Mathleen Hurst, 48, of New Kensington, Pa., was pronounced dead at St. John Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Milton.

Hurst and the couple's two grandchildren—J. D. Ozepy, 3, and Natalie Ozepy, 4—were reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Reported in fair condition at the Ohio Valley Hospital were James Kulen, 26, of Mingo Junction, driver of the other car, and a passenger, John Young, 34, also of Mingo Junction.

Missiles Aimed At U.S. Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam fired off a record 29 Soviet-made missiles Tuesday during heavy American air attacks near Hanoi and one of the rockets found its mark, the U.S. command reported.

One U.S. jet was lost to a surface-to-air missile and another was shot down by a Communist MIG17 in a dogfight 20 miles north of Hanoi, a spokesman said. American pilots claimed damage to three MIGs but saw none go down.

On the "peace" front, the South Vietnamese government with apparent U.S. blessing offered to end the war, including the air strikes against the Communist North, and begin talks toward reunification of North and South Viet Nam if the Viet Cong disband and Hanoi withdraws its troops from the South.

Except for the mention of reunification, the proclamation represented little new and reflected the new confidence in Saigon over the allied military position. Since the proposal demanded their capitulation, the Communists were certain to reject it.

In the ground war, U.S. jets and artillery pounded Communist positions in the jungles of the Song Ngan Valley just below the 17th Parallel frontier as 7,000 American Marines and South Vietnamese troops carried Operation Hastings into the sixth day. The main target of the aerial barrage was Hill 208, site of numerous bunkers and foxholes. A spokesman said 11 bunkers had been destroyed or damaged.

Ground fighting appeared to have tapered off against units of the North Vietnamese division which intelligence says recently infiltrated across the six-mile-wide demilitarized buffer zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

The Marines reported 332 Communists killed and the probable deaths of 549 more. A Leatherneck battalion that had borne the brunt of the fighting left the field.

In the only heavy engagement Tuesday reported by the U.S. military command, a company of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division killed 51 Viet Cong in the Ho Bo Woods 21 miles northwest of Saigon. The U.S. command said the American company suffered heavy casualties.

The enemy force, in an unusual appearance in camouflaged uniforms and steel helmets, advanced within 15 yards of the U.S. infantrymen before being repulsed, a U.S. spokesman said.

Fears for the fate of American fliers captured in North Viet Nam increased with reports from Peking and Prague that the North Vietnamese ambassadors there had said the airmen would be tried as war criminals.

While U.S. officials and members of Congress warned in Washington of tough American response to mistreatment of the airmen, the North Vietnamese news agency published a letter by President Ho Chi Minh to American Socialist leader Norman Thomas promising humane treatment of the captives.

Phillis, Wife To Supervise Carroll Home

LISBON — Carroll County commissioners have hired Russell and Betty Phillis of Salem R. D. as superintendent and matron of the county home on Route 9, three miles north of Carrollton.

Formerly superintendent and matron of the Columbiana County Home, the Phillises have been operating a Butler Township farm since the commissioners dismissed him as superintendent last October. He had held the post since 1958.

The Phillises will assume their new duties Aug. 1, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haver, who resigned to accept supervision of the Seneca County Home near Tiffin.

Carroll Commissioners Roy A. Tressel, Russell Barrett and Wilbur Boggs met with Mr. and Mrs. Phillis after lunch Tuesday and voted to give them the positions. They will receive $4,860 annually in addition to living quarters and food.

The Carroll County Home was constructed in 1954 and averages between 50 and 55 residents. The operation includes a county farm.

Nurse Visits Speck's Room In Death Quiz

Attorney's Office Refuses Comment On 'Identification'

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he may have suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse Tuesday.

Was he the same man who had managed to subdue, gag, bind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?

Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed and praying as they were led, one by one, to their deaths, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune in today's editions both said Miss Amurao had identified Speck as the intruder.

However, the state's attorney's office refused to give any information on the confrontation or to comment on the newspaper reports.

Dr. William N. Norcross, the city jail physician, said in a medical bulletin that Speck may have suffered a heart attack shortly before the incident.

"There is an 80 per cent chance that Richard Speck suffered a coronary thrombosis sometime prior to 10 a.m. today (Tuesday)," Norcross said.

"Complete rest has been ordered as well as no interviews or visitors for the next 48 hours. The patient cannot be moved," he said.

Dr. Norcross said Speck complained of chest pains, was restless and was trying to sleep.

He said tests would be conducted today and Thursday to determine Speck's condition.

Dr. Norcross reported Speck's chest pains at a hearing Tuesday in the felony division of Circuit Court.

He said Speck was depressed

Woman Dies, Five Hurt At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) —A Pennsylvania woman was killed and five persons, including her husband and two grandchildren, were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on Market Street here today.

Mrs. Mathleen Hurst, 48, of New Kensington, Pa., was pronounced dead at St. John Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Milton.

Hurst and the couple's two grandchildren—J. D. Ozepy, 3, and Natalie Ozepy, 4—were reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Reported in fair condition at the Ohio Valley Hospital were James Kulen, 26, of Mingo Junction, driver of the other car, and a passenger, John Young, 34, also of Mingo Junction.

Injuries Take Life Of Toronto Youth, 17

Charles (Sandy) Riggs, 16, of Toronto R. D. 2, died Tuesday at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville from injuries received from a motor bike accident last week on Route 7.

He was born in Steubenville Sept. 14, 1949, a son of R. Lindsey Riggs and Kathryn Johnston Riggs, who survive at the home. He would have been a senior this fall at the Jefferson Union High School and was a

Installation Services Held For Pastor At Area Church

Participating ministers were the Rev. Frank Hare, pastor of the Beaver Valley Larger Parish, Scripture and prayer; the Rev. F. Dixon McCloy, professor of church history at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, sermon.

The Rev. G. Gene Toot, co-pastor of the Trinity church, constitutional questions, declaration of installation and prayer of installation; the Rev. James Hobbson, pastor of the Glenmoor church and also a colleague of the candidate, charge to the pastor, and the Rev. William Harper, pastor of the Bethel church in Salineville, charge to the pastor.

Miss Christine Marra, church organist, and the church choir provided music. The benediction was given by the Rev. Charles Bulger.

The arrangement committee included Mrs. Walter Stewart, chairman, and Mrs. Frank Grubbs, co-chairman, assisted by Mrs. Howard Lindesmith, Mrs. John Kiewall, Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. George McPherson and Mrs. Homer Rogers.

Mrs. Fred H. Johnson Jr. was in charge of the decorations, which included a buffet table covered with a white tablecloth and arranged with pink and green flowers, white tapers and crystal candelabra. A cake in the form of an open Bible, made by Mrs. Clayton Baker, completed the setting. Mrs. George McPherson and Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins presided at the tea table.

During the social hour, a gift from the congregation was presented to Rev. and Mrs. Bulger. Mrs. Baker also presented them with the cake that decorated the table. About 200 attended.

The Disabled American Veterans (DAV), organized in Cincinnati in 1919, has about 213,000 members.

Entratter gave away the bride. Film producer William Goetz and his wife were best man and matron of honor. Others in the wedding party were comedian Red Skelton, two daughters of Entratter and two of his granddaughters.

"I think I handled it pretty good," Sinatra said of the wedding.

The wedding capped a romance that began in 1964, when Sinatra and Miss Farrow were frequently seen together at Hollywood parties, restaurants and baseball games.

Sinatra was first married to the former Nancy Barbato, who bore his three children: Frank Jr., now 21, Nancy, 24, and Christina (Tina), 17. Like their father Frank Jr. and Nancy are singers.

Sinatra remains on good terms with his first wife, whom he married in 1939. She was awarded custody of the children after divorcing him in 1951.

Instead of waiting for her decree to become final, which takes a year in California, Sinatra got a Nevada divorce in Las Vegas to clear the way for his marriage to actress Ava Gardner. They were divorced after two stormy years.

Girl Injured As Autos Hit

A teen-aged Texas girl visiting this area was injured Tuesday night when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another on Route 30 about a mile north of the city limits.

Georgia Hummel, 16, of Dallas was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the left temple and left leg received when she struck the dashboard of a car operated by Guy D. Michaels, 16, of Chester R. D. 1 in the mishap about 10:30 p. m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Michaels was headed north in a 1961 station wagon and was attempting to pass another auto operated by Frank Obney, 20, of St. George St. when the left rear tire blew out on the station wagon.

Micheals lost control and his car swerved into the right lane, hitting Obney's 1961 convertible then striking a guardrail, officers said. The girl is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Richard Birkhimer of Hillcrest, Chester.

No one was injured in a sideswipe mishap on McIntosh Rd. north of Route 45 late yesterday morning, officers reported.

Raymond L. Jewell, 54, of 345 W. 6th St. was headed north in a truck and Doris J. VanDyne, 34, of Ashtabula was driving south in a 1963 coach when the vehicles sideswiped.

Homecoming At Pine Grove Marked By Varied Program

The annual homecoming of the community of Pine Grove, near Hammondsville, was held Sunday and observed in the worship and Sunday School services at the Methodist Church.

Forty attended a basket dinner. Guests included Tom Saltsman of Wellsville and his cousin, Mrs. Anna Orr Walters of Monterey Park, Calif., both of whom were students at the former Pine Grove School. Also attending was Mrs. Walters' daughter, Mrs. Audrea Frank of Monterey Park.

The program at the church included group singing of hymns, prayer, the flag pledge, a prayer for those who have died the past year, solos, duets and trios, instrumental numbers and readings. More than 100 attended.

Mrs. Chalissa Lawrence Swickard and Warren Close gave brief talks. Mrs. Alice Householder presented awards to Mrs. Rosa McConnell, 88, the oldest person present; Mrs. Swickard, 76, oldest Pine Grove School student present; Carol Ann Rhoades, 7-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rhoades, youngest; William Sivard of Canton, farthest distance, and Mrs. Householder and Mrs. Grace Twaddle, students with the largest families.

The group sang songs, accompanied by Nancy Clark. Fred Barnett was the song leader for hymns, accompanied by his wife, Jean.

Mrs. Virginia Greco gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Helen Allison offered the closing prayer. Lunch was served at the school. Fifty attended.

Grooved edges on coins were originated to prevent people from paring the rims and selling the precious metal.

Nine County 4-H'ers Will Compete At Fair

LISBON — Nine Columbiana County 4-H'ers won senior division demonstration contests Tuesday night at the Methodist Church and will compete at the state fair next month.

Demonstrations were in two categories — "inside the home" and "outdoors," and in junior and senior divisions with 14 years the dividing line.

Judges were Mrs. Jeanne Rumburg of East Palestine, Mrs. Janice Hanna of Ohio Edison, Alliance; Miss Mary Walsh, Leetonia home economics teacher; Mrs. Kathryn Bieshelt, speech teacher in the Lisbon school system; Mrs. Marilyn Myers of Lisbon, James Clendening, vocational agriculture teacher at United High School; Jack Herrod, Lisbon teacher, and Paul Gipp, manager of the Production Credit Association of Salem.

County 4-H'ers are preparing exhibits for the annual selection days next month. Competition is scheduled by districts: West, Tuesday, Aug. 2, at Knox Local School; Northeast, Thursday, Aug. 4, Fairfield School, and South, Tuesday, Aug. 9, Highlandtown School. District winners will advance to the county selection day Thursday, Aug. 11, in Fellowship Hall at the Lisbon Methodist Church.

School Plans Are Speeded

Although no definite word has been received, final approval could come within the next two weeks on the plans and specifications for the city's new school building program.

Robert Beatty, architect, met Tuesday at Columbus with the building section of the State Board of Education to go over the plans for the new high school and two new elementary buildings.

Beatty said today the state requested some changes, but that all are of a minor nature.

For example, the state wants the wording in some of the specifications changed and in some instances provide for alternates on materials and equipment, Beatty commented.

Beatty said work will begin immediately to make the changes and the work should be done in about a week. The changes then will be sent to Columbus for final approval.

Beatty said the officials promised to give top priority to the East Liverpool project.

Nine County 4-H'ers Will Compete At Fair

LISBON — Nine Columbiana County 4-H'ers won senior division demonstration contests Tuesday night at the Methodist Church and will compete at the state fair next month.

Demonstrations were in two categories — "inside the home" and "outdoors," and in junior and senior divisions with 14 years the dividing line.

Judges were Mrs. Jeanne Rumburg of East Palestine, Mrs. Janice Hanna of Ohio Edison, Alliance; Miss Mary Walsh, Leetonia home economics teacher; Mrs. Kathryn Bieshelt, speech teacher in the Lisbon school system; Mrs. Marilyn Myers of Lisbon, James Clendening, vocational agriculture teacher at United High School; Jack Herrod, Lisbon teacher, and Paul Gipp, manager of the Production Credit Association of Salem.

County 4-H'ers are preparing exhibits for the annual selection days next month. Competition is scheduled by districts: West, Tuesday, Aug. 2, at Knox Local School; Northeast, Thursday, Aug. 4, Fairfield School, and South, Tuesday, Aug. 9, Highlandtown School. District winners will advance to the county selection day Thursday, Aug. 11, in Fellowship Hall at the Lisbon Methodist Church.

School Plans Are Speeded

Although no definite word has been received, final approval could come within the next two weeks on the plans and specifications for the city's new school building program.

Robert Beatty, architect, met Tuesday at Columbus with the building section of the State Board of Education to go over the plans for the new high school and two new elementary buildings.

Beatty said today the state requested some changes, but that all are of a minor nature.

For example, the state wants the wording in some of the specifications changed and in some instances provide for alternates on materials and equipment, Beatty commented.

Beatty said work will begin immediately to make the changes and the work should be done in about a week. The changes then will be sent to Columbus for final approval.

Beatty said the officials promised to give top priority to the East Liverpool project.

Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Council will meet Thursday night at 8 at the Franklin Township hall, Mayor Ernest Phillips has announced. Discussion may be held on the village budget, he said.

In 1965, Kenneth F. Palmer of London wrote the Lord's Prayer 25 times (nearly 7,000 letters) on a piece of paper the size of a postage stamp.

First Of A Long Series

Do the Geneva conventions apply to the undeclared war in Southeast Asia?

International lawyers someday may straighten out the legal tangles of a war waged with no formal declaration of war and no specified enemy.

Meanwhile, there is slight hope of straightening out the complications that have arisen over treatment of prisoners of war in the war in Viet Nam. This is the first of a long series of complications.

The question is whether prisoners who have fallen into the hands of people against whom they committed hostile acts without a declaration of war are in fact prisoners of war.

If they are not so classified, they are enemies of the people they were trying to kill and subject to retribution on that basis. This is North Viet Nam's view.

The Geneva Convention concerning prisoners of war is being cited by the United States without clear application. It is necessary to proclaim the convention in effect to give it any meaning.

Though the United States may assume for its own convenience that it intends to abide by international rules that have been evolved for humane treatment of prisoners, it has no way to force the same assumption on its undeclared enemy in Southeast Asia.

Members of the Viet Cong are fighting under no recognized government. The North Vietnamese are fighting under a government never named by the United States as an enemy.

The South Vietnamese, U.S. allies, are addicted to the same Oriental cruelties favored by their relatives in North Viet Nam. Every time the United States launches another napalm raid or a bomb-out of a village, it is in such flagrant violation of Geneva Convention IV (protection of civilians) that violations of Convention III (prisoners of war) hardly seem worth arguing about.

Let Us All Give Thanks

This is turning out to be a long hot summer in a way that goes back into history farther than the civil rights movement.

It is a summer when electric utilities are keenly conscious of the draw of air conditioners on their electrical energy. We are thankful for air-conditioning. Before it existed, hot-weather suffering was universal. Now it is possible to find relief. We are grateful for air-conditioning.

We have found relief in light-weight clothing that does not look as if we had pressed our sleeping garments into daytime service.

We find relief in humanitarian designs that make it respectable to shuck all-encompassing clothing in favor of styles that give easy access to air currents.

Let us give thanks for easy access to ice. Instead of waiting for the ice wagon, we now pop the ice supply out of self-unloading ice trays in an electric refrigerator.

Let us not forget, while giving thanks, for the widespread use of window fans in dwellings that keep warm-weather temperatures from being cumulative as hot days succeed one another.

We are thankful for refreshing beverages, the availability of salt pills for heavy-duty workers, deodorants, sunburn lotions, headgear resistant to the rays of the sun and work schedules vastly shorter than the 80-hour stretchouts of our grandfathers' day. Heat exhaustion is blessedly rare.

"Cooling it" once was only a hopeful thought in the perfervid imaginings of desperate mortals who thought they had been consigned prematurely to eternal heat. Today, "cooling it" is capable of realization.

In the jargon of the era, anyone these days can "keep is cool." It is something to be thankful for — in a cool, cool way.

Powell Thoughts

By Barry Schweid

WASHINGTON

It was a new Adam Clayton Powell who called in the press Monday to talk about "black power."

The old-time bounce, the quickness with a phrase, the long, thin cigars were the same. But the mood was subdued, the fire so much under control that it appeared to flicker rather than flare.

Suddenly the New York Democrat was the "grand old man" of the civil rights movement. "Black power" was no shock to him; he had seen it coming.

He was philosophic. He saw no reason for alarm. And he didn't see what the difficulty was in defining the term.

When Harlem's Negroes first sent Powell to Congress in 1945 "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael was 4.

Powell was talking about "black power" and "audacious power" long before the chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Mississippi marchers drummed the phrase into America's consciousness — and set nerves to jangling.

NOW HERE he was, in what he called his "twilight years," calmly — almost with an air of resignation — telling reporters in the gleaming Rayburn Office Building that "black power" is an attempt to redistribute economic and political power.

"It is not rooted in violence any more than white power is," Powell said. "White supremacy demanded the whole hog; black power seeks a part of the action."

Should whites fear black power? a reporter asked.

"No sir-ree," Powell said easily.

Again, "black power doesn't mean a takeover." It means the 10 per cent of the population that is Negro "is going to have some dignity and respect."

Of course, if "black power" is not permitted to assert itself there could be "an endless cycle of violence and destruction."

Leaning back and rocking gently in his leather chair, Powell said philosophically, "How this dialogue is resolved is up to America."

The furore over "black power" has threatened to splinter the civil rights movement. But except for some darts tossed gently in the direction of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — "he doesn't understand black power" — the stance struck by Powell seemed somehow above the internal bickering.

"BLACK POWER doesn't mean black supremacy — my old friend Martin Luther King to the contrary," Powell said at one point. However, at another, he said that, in the main, "I don't disagree with Martin Luther King."

The suggestion was that King simply has misunderstood the nature of the "black power" philosophy, not that he has set out to distort it.

To Powell's way of thinking, "a new breed of cats" is easing into the top positions in the civil rights movement; "the pasteurized white leadership is being turned out to pasture."

No one asked if Powell felt challenged. But he volunteered: "All of the old-line leaders are gone; I may be one of them myself."

It's Not Funny

By Richard Sponge

Mark Twain once wrote: "Humor must not professedly teach, and it must not professedly preach, but it must do both if it would live forever. By forever, I mean 30 years."

E. B. White, who quoted Twain in the preface of his fine anthology, A Subtreasury of American Humor, dissents slightly. "I don't think," wrote the exquiiste humorist White, "I agree that humor must preach in order to live; it need only speak the truth — and I notice it always does."

Thomas Carlyle wrote: "True humor springs not more from the head than from the heart; it is not contempt, its essence is love; it issues not in laughter, but in still smiles, which lie far deeper."

ALL OF THESE opinions can be reconciled, for true humor, like true religion, is widely accommodating. The thing that humor cannot stand is exploitation. Almost as soon as the critics started writing about the art of Charlie Chaplin, that great humorist ceased being so funny.

So it is with some alarm that one reads that a group which calls itself the Humor Societies of America is currently sponsoring in New York an exhibit, a humor workshop (whatever that may be), an intercollegiate joke-telling contest and a panel discussion on the role of the humorist in society today. This is supposed to be the First Humor Conference and Clinic. It all sounds so serious. The group even is asking: "Do we need a Secretary of Humor in the White House?"

The answer is: No.

THE DECLINE and fall of American humor is discussed briefly by novelist C. D. B. Bryan in a recent bit of criticism. "I think magazines are being destroyed by the cautiousness of their editors who in one breath cry out that they need more humor, and in the next breath protest that they can't print anything on that!" writes Bryan. "The humorous pieces which generally reach print in mass circulation magazines come out as though fed through a Gerber banana puree machine."

Bryan lists the humorists of America's golden age: Robert Benchley, James Thurber, Dorothy Parker, H. Allen Smith, Corey Ford, S. J. Perelan, George S. Kaufman, Don Marquis, F. P. A. (Franklin Pierce Adams), Ring Lardner, Dr. Traprock, George S. Chappell, Wolcott Gibbs and E. B. White. He pays special tribute to that gentle practical joker, Hugh Troy.

There is no disposition here to quarrel with the list. Frank Sullivan and Russell Maloney would have to be included, of course, along with Fred Allen. Ring Lardner could be eliminated as a satirist, though he on occasion wrote some of the greatest nonsense humor since Lear and Carroll.

Gentleness seems to run in the mainstream of American humor. One evening on the town with Robert Benchley will be remembered here in part for the absence of an unkind remark or sharp word. Why the conclave in New York is disturbing is that it seems contrived and regimented. Humor flies at examination. Some years ago it was fair game to introduce the editor of the college humor magazine with the words: "Say something funny."

Odd Facts

A rabbit is distinguished from a hare in that it is smaller, has comparatively shorter ears, is short - legged and is incapable of running long distances. A hare is much larger, possesses long ears and legs and is a faster runner.

The tallest species of tree in the world is a type of eucalyptus, or blue-gum, in Australia, some of these trees stretching as high as 400 feet into the air.

"Boudoir" literally means a pouting or sulking place, instead of a place of retirement. It comes from the French verb, "bouder," meaning to pout.

End Of The Trail

Raid On Pension Fund Nipped

By Victor Riesel

Johnny Dio (Dioguardi), extortioner par excellent and parvenu in Cosa Nostra's best circles, has been reaching for hundreds of thousands of dollars of labor's pension funds.

Free-swinging "Johnny D.'s" activities are always of interest — especially to the police and local authorities.

Victor Riesel

His most recent manipulation is of special fascination because it discloses the technique now being used by the underworld to put its syndicated hands on hundreds of millions of union pension fund dollars.

Dio, alumnus of two penitentiaries, has been using his meat business as a front.

SOME OF THE TRUSTEES of this vast pool of cash, which piles up at the rate of some $40 million annually, immediately supported the Dio "request."

It was discussed briefly. Then it was put on the agenda. There was favorable action.

At this point, the mob's nemesis, U.S. Attorney Robert Morgenthau, self-effacing unlike his television counterparts, came upon the strategem.

Mr. Morgenthau, who has the true scientist's distaste for the pursuits of publicity, quietly began probing.

He discovered that some fund officials had a fine nostalgic affection and respect for the acid-tongued Dio, who had once hoped to make a Mafia-type career for himself in the fraternal order of Teamsters.

He almost did. But he forgot to pay some taxes. So he tarried for some four years in the Atlanta penitentiary.

So Dio's bid for a loan to his meat business was reviewed as a sort of retroactive scholarship.

News of the federal government's interest must have leaked. No one seems to know what happened to the final authorization for the big loan.

The ethically tight-lipped Mr. Morgenthau, who is probing into the vital inards of the Mafia, is not talking yet — but he generally finds what he seeks.

WHAT IS STARTLING — in view of the billions in funds controlled by men who are friends of friends of convicted extortioners and musclemen such as Dio — is that he should have been given any consideration at all.

Dio, who has swung at newsmen and photographers; Dio, who is an intimate of the deadly combine led by Thomas (Three Finger Brown) Luchese; Dio, who is the brother of Frankie (Dioguardi), just now convicted of conspiring to unload about $100 million worth of narcotics on the land; this Dio is out on $15,000 bail because he was indicted on April 21, 1966, on federal charges of bankruptcy fraud.

Frankie and Johnny are not only brothers. They are two of a kind — a deuce of a pair.

Frankie Dio now faces 20 years in prison for his part in attempting to get the largest cache of dope ever seized by the federals into the underworld's distributive channels.

It's Mr. Morgenthau who won the Dio conviction.

YET OUT OF THIS MILIEU comes an ex-convict such as Johnny Dio, with sufficient connections to find favor among some who can distribute largess because they have charge over the hundreds of millions of dollars now being put away to make secure the old age of working people.

It wouldn't have been difficult for the Midwest fund's people to learn that when Mr. Morgenthau had convinced a Federal Grand Jury to indict Johnny Dio last April, the U.S. Attorney said:

Why, then, would the protectors of the proletariat's dollars want to become one of Dio's creditors?

Who made the connection?

What of all the other funds with which the mob has more connections than an old-fashioned central switchboard?

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. John Patton and son William, of Chester left for a vacation in Canada.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — R. W. Sample, retired shoe dealer, had a 12-foot-high hollyhock blooming in his back yard on McKinnon Ave.

TEN YEARS AGO — The annual Leatherberry-Hamilton reunion was held at the Highlandtown Grange hall, with 100 in attendance.

Fred J. Doutt and John W. Pryor, both of East Liverpool, were designated as knights of the York Cross of Honour, the highest degree in the York Rite of Freemasonary.

Mrs. William Kelly scored a 1-up victory over Mrs. Gordon Weese to capture the Women's July Cup golf championship at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Grin And Bear It

"Aren't we going to do anything on our world tour besides look at picturesque bartenders, Roscoe?"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We have raised up a generation of youth unequaled to any other. Through science and medical advancements we have never before enjoyed such health or length of life. Through opportunity and increase in travel and knowledge our youth have never before been so informed or alert.

For years there has been so much emphasis on needs for our youth to go into certain fields such as science and other space, math or various specialized lines of work. All of these are necessary and they have there place, but there are other needs also of importance, and two of these are sadly neglected.

One shortage is that of doctors. Most all of us have had some experience in waiting our turn, or having difficulty in reaching a doctor at some time or another. Than there are some communities that are entirely without one residing doctor in their area.

In all that we have put into our youth today have we failed to install in them the ability to have concern and compassion for human suffering to the extent that so few are called to serve as doctors? In teaching them how to achieve and get ahead, how to succeed, forever dwelling on the thought of obtaining power and position, have we failed to show to them the value and regard of serving and loving one another?

The second shortage is gospel ministers. Many people will tell you that a young man can only become a preacher if and when he is called of God. This may be true — but — it is through the hearing of the word that they are called. What are we doing with our Bibles in our homes. And what are we doing in our churches that our youth are not getting the message that we are to go into all the world teaching and preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ?

We are willing to send our boys to war to kill and be killed, but we are failing to inspire them to take up the cross and follow Christ and go and spread the word of God, which is sharper than a two-edged sword.

When will we realize that these wars and fighting and killing are bringing no peace, building no better world, and death is the only victor?

When will we realize our churches who put emphasis on the building, statistics, elaborate ceremony, and materialism and worldiness, are not doing one thing for the cause of Christ? I believe that the smallest, simplist, and maybe not as dignified a church in our area, is reaping a greater harvest than some larger more elaborate ones. We are not supposed to judge, but you cannt help but see the different results that different practices produce.

Jesus was called both, a preacher and the great physician. He had compassion and concern for both man's soul and body. No one ever said it more plainly than the late President Kennedy. "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather what you can do for your country." And Jesus said, "Whosoever will be great among you shall be your minister; whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all".

Oh, there is such a need! Young man, there is no greater joy than marching with Jesus in the Army of the Lord. Will you look out on the field that are ever white for harvest and say "Yes, Lord, here am I, send me."? He will not merely just send you, He will go with you, even into the ends of the earth.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have read many letters in The Review criticizing the city officials. That seems to be the easy thing to do — to criticize the ones who are trying to get the job done.

Now I have a little matter I would like to call to the attention of our city officials—but not in the line of criticism. I wish they could see their way clear to do something about our street markers. I am ashamed of them. The street names are loose on the posts—many of them pointing the same direction and some broken off. The posts are rusty and need painting. If a stranger comes to town he can't tell one street from another. When I go for a walk in the mornings, I try to straighten some of the markers, but they will not stay that way.

I have a daughter living in Glens Falls, New York — a nice little town about the size of ours—and when I go to visit her and drive around the town I notice their markers are all good and firm and the posts painted a nice color. It sure looks nice and one can find his way around very nicely.

Now the street crew just recently have painted a white line in the center of all our side streets here in East End. It makes them look nice, but how much more important are our street markers.

The robber crab, a formidable creature dwelling mainly on tropical islands in the Pacific and Indian Oceans, has jaws powerful enough to crack a coconut or a man's bones. These crabs are easily one of nature's ugliest creations, with foot-long bodies and tails and antennae that add almost another foot to their overall length. There have been some fearful tales of men who have been attacked by these monster crabs.

The expression "two bits" originated from the early days of American history when the Spanish dollar was a familiar medium of currency. When small change was needed, the dollar was cut into eight pieces, or eight "bits."

Leaning back and rocking gently in his leather chair, Powell said philosophically, "How this dialogue is resolved is up to America."

The furore over "black power" has threatened to splinter the civil rights movement. But except for some darts tossed gently in the direction of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — "he doesn't understand black power" — the stance struck by Powell seemed somehow above the internal bickering.

"BLACK POWER doesn't mean black supremacy — my old friend Martin Luther King to the contrary," Powell said at one point. However, at another, he said that, in the main, "I don't disagree with Martin Luther King."

The suggestion was that King simply has misunderstood the nature of the "black power" philosophy, not that he has set out to distort it.

To Powell's way of thinking, "a new breed of cats" is easing into the top positions in the civil rights movement; "the pasteurized white leadership is being turned out to pasture."

No one asked if Powell felt challenged. But he volunteered: "All of the old-line leaders are gone; I may be one of them myself."

It's Not Funny

By Richard Sponge

Mark Twain once wrote: "Humor must not professedly teach, and it must not professedly preach, but it must do both if it would live forever. By forever, I mean 30 years."

E. B. White, who quoted Twain in the preface of his fine anthology, A Subtreasury of American Humor, dissents slightly. "I don't think," wrote the exquiiste humorist White, "I agree that humor must preach in order to live; it need only speak the truth — and I notice it always does."

Thomas Carlyle wrote: "True humor springs not more from the head than from the heart; it is not contempt, its essence is love; it issues not in laughter, but in still smiles, which lie far deeper."

ALL OF THESE opinions can be reconciled, for true humor, like true religion, is widely accommodating. The thing that humor cannot stand is exploitation. Almost as soon as the critics started writing about the art of Charlie Chaplin, that great humorist ceased being so funny.

So it is with some alarm that one reads that a group which calls itself the Humor Societies of America is currently sponsoring in New York an exhibit, a humor workshop (whatever that may be), an intercollegiate joke-telling contest and a panel discussion on the role of the humorist in society today. This is supposed to be the First Humor Conference and Clinic. It all sounds so serious. The group even is asking: "Do we need a Secretary of Humor in the White House?"

The answer is: No.

THE DECLINE and fall of American humor is discussed briefly by novelist C. D. B. Bryan in a recent bit of criticism. "I think magazines are being destroyed by the cautiousness of their editors who in one breath cry out that they need more humor, and in the next breath protest that they can't print anything on that!" writes Bryan. "The humorous pieces which generally reach print in mass circulation magazines come out as though fed through a Gerber banana puree machine."

Bryan lists the humorists of America's golden age: Robert Benchley, James Thurber, Dorothy Parker, H. Allen Smith, Corey Ford, S. J. Perelan, George S. Kaufman, Don Marquis, F. P. A. (Franklin Pierce Adams), Ring Lardner, Dr. Traprock, George S. Chappell, Wolcott Gibbs and E. B. White. He pays special tribute to that gentle practical joker, Hugh Troy.

There is no disposition here to quarrel with the list. Frank Sullivan and Russell Maloney would have to be included, of course, along with Fred Allen. Ring Lardner could be eliminated as a satirist, though he on occasion wrote some of the greatest nonsense humor since Lear and Carroll.

Gentleness seems to run in the mainstream of American humor. One evening on the town with Robert Benchley will be remembered here in part for the absence of an unkind remark or sharp word. Why the conclave in New York is disturbing is that it seems contrived and regimented. Humor flies at examination. Some years ago it was fair game to introduce the editor of the college humor magazine with the words: "Say something funny."

Odd Facts

A rabbit is distinguished from a hare in that it is smaller, has comparatively shorter ears, is short - legged and is incapable of running long distances. A hare is much larger, possesses long ears and legs and is a faster runner.

The tallest species of tree in the world is a type of eucalyptus, or blue-gum, in Australia, some of these trees stretching as high as 400 feet into the air.

"Boudoir" literally means a pouting or sulking place, instead of a place of retirement. It comes from the French verb, "bouder," meaning to pout.

End Of The Trail

Raid On Pension Fund Nipped

By Victor Riesel

Johnny Dio (Dioguardi), extortioner par excellent and parvenu in Cosa Nostra's best circles, has been reaching for hundreds of thousands of dollars of labor's pension funds.

Victor Riesel

Free - swinging "Johnny D.'s" activities are always of interest — especially to the police and local authorities.

His most recent manipulation is of special fascination because it discloses the technique now being used by the underworld to put its syndicated hands on hundreds of millions of union pension fund dollars.

Dio, alumnus of two penitentiaries, has been using his meat business as a front.

For connections inside labor he contacted some ham-handed friends in at least one big union.

It was discussed briefly. Then it was put on the agenda. There was favorable action.

At this point, the mob's nemesis, U.S. Attorney Robert Morgenthau, self-effacing unlike his television counterparts, came upon the strategem.

Mr. Morgenthau, who has the true scientist's distaste for the pursuits of publicity, quietly began probing.

He discovered that some fund officials had a fine nostalgic affection and respect for the acid-tongued Dio, who had once hoped to make a Mafia-type career for himself in the fraternal order of Teamsters.

He almost did. But he forgot to pay some taxes. So he tarried for some four years in the Atlanta penitentiary.

So Dio's bid for a loan to his meat business was reviewed as a sort of retroactive scholarship.

News of the federal government's interest must have leaked. No one seems to know what happened to the final authorization for the big loan.

The ethically tight-lipped Mr. Morgenthau, who is probing into the vital inards of the Mafia, is not talking yet — but he generally finds what he seeks.

WHAT IS STARTLING — in view of the billions in funds controlled by men who are friends of friends of convicted extortioners and musclemen such as Dio — is that he should have been given any consideration at all.

Dio, who has swung at newsmen and photographers; Dio, who is an intimate of the deadly combine led by Thomas (Three Finger Brown) Luchese; Dio, who is the brother of Frankie (Dioguardi), just now convicted of conspiring to unload about $100 million worth of narcotics on the land; this Dio is out on $15,000 bail because he was indicted on April 21, 1966, on federal charges of bankruptcy fraud.

Frankie and Johnny are not only brothers. They are two of a kind — a deuce of a pair.

Frankie Dio now faces 20 years in prison for his part in attempting to get the largest cache of dope ever seized by the federals into the underworld's distributive channels.

YET OUT OF THIS MILIEU comes an ex-convict such as Johnny Dio, with sufficient connections to find favor among some who can distribute largess because they have charge over the hundreds of millions of dollars now being put away to make secure the old age of working people.

It wouldn't have been difficult for the Midwest fund's people to learn that when Mr. Morgenthau had convinced a Federal Grand Jury to indict Johnny Dio last April, the U.S. Attorney said:

Why, then, would the protectors of the proletariat's dollars want to become one of Dio's creditors?

Who made the connection?

What of all the other funds with which the mob has more connections than an old-fashioned central switchboard?

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. John Patton and son William, of Chester left for a vacation in Canada.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — R. W. Sample, retired shoe dealer, had a 12-foot-high hollyhock blooming in his back yard on McKinnon Ave.

TEN YEARS AGO — The annual Leatherberry-Hamilton reunion was held at the Highlandtown Grange hall, with 100 in attendance.

Fred J. Doutt and John W. Pryor, both of East Liverpool, were designated as knights of the York Cross of Honour, the highest degree in the York Rite of Freemasonary.

Mrs. William Kelly scored a 1-up victory over Mrs. Gordon Weese to capture the Women's July Cup golf championship at the East Liverpool Country Club.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We have raised up a generation of youth unequaled to any other. Through science and medical advancements we have never before enjoyed such health or length of life. Through opportunity and increase in travel and knowledge our youth have never before been so informed or alert.

For years there has been so much emphasis on needs for our youth to go into certain fields such as science and other space, math or various specialized lines of work. All of these are necessary and they have there place, but there are other needs also of importance, and two of these are sadly neglected.

One shortage is that of doctors. Most all of us have had some experience in waiting our turn, or having difficulty in reaching a doctor at some time or another. Than there are some communities that are entirely without one residing doctor in their area.

In all that we have put into our youth today have we failed to install in them the ability to have concern and compassion for human suffering to the extent that so few are called to serve as doctors? In teaching them how to achieve and get ahead, how to succeed, forever dwelling on the thought of obtaining power and position, have we failed to show to them the value and regard of serving and loving one another?

The second shortage is gospel ministers. Many people will tell you that a young man can only become a preacher if and when he is called of God. This may be true — but — it is through the hearing of the word that they are called. What are we doing with our Bibles in our homes. And what are we doing in our churches that our youth are not getting the message that we are to go into all the world teaching and preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ?

We are willing to send our boys to war to kill and be killed, but we are failing to inspire them to take up the cross and follow Christ and go and spread the word of God, which is sharper than a two-edged sword.

When will we realize that these wars and fighting and killing are bringing no peace, building no better world, and death is the only victor?

When will we realize our churches who put emphasis on the building, statistics, elaborate ceremony, and materialism and worldiness, are not doing one thing for the cause of Christ? I believe that the smallest, simplist, and maybe not as dignified a church in our area, is reaping a greater harvest than some larger more elaborate ones. We are not supposed to judge, but you cannt help but see the different results that different practices produce.

Jesus was called both, a preacher and the great physician. He had compassion and concern for both man's soul and body. No one ever said it more plainly than the late President Kennedy. "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather what you can do for your country." And Jesus said, "Whosoever will be great among you shall be your minister; whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all".

Oh, there is such a need! Young man, there is no greater joy than marching with Jesus in the Army of the Lord. Will you look out on the field that are ever white for harvest and say "Yes, Lord, here am I, send me."? He will not merely just send you, He will go with you, even into the ends of the earth.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I have read many letters in The Review criticizing the city officials. That seems to be the easy thing to do — to criticize the ones who are trying to get the job done.

Now I have a little matter I would like to call to the attention of our city officials—but not in the line of criticism. I wish they could see their way clear to do something about our street markers. I am ashamed of them. The street names are loose on the posts—many of them pointing the same direction and some broken off. The posts are rusty and need painting. If a stranger comes to town he can't tell one street from another. When I go for a walk in the mornings, I try to straighten some of the markers, but they will not stay that way.

I have a daughter living in Glens Falls, New York — a nice little town about the size of ours—and when I go to visit her and drive around the town I notice their markers are all good and firm and the posts painted a nice color. It sure looks nice and one can find his way around very nicely.

Now the street crew just recently have painted a white line in the center of all our side streets here in East End. It makes them look nice, but how much more important are our street markers.

This 'n That

The robber crab, a formidable creature dwelling mainly on tropical islands in the Pacific and Indian Oceans, has jaws powerful enough to crack a coconut or a man's bones. These crabs are easily one of nature's ugliest creations, with foot-long bodies and tails and antennae that add almost another foot to their overall length. There have been some fearful tales of men who have been attacked by these monster crabs.

The expression "two bits" originated from the early days of American history when the Spanish dollar was a familiar medium of currency. When small change was needed, the dollar was cut into eight pieces, or eight "bits."

Mrs. Robert Guyton

Mrs. Maude Guyton, 59, of 400 Monroe St., wife of Robert P. Guyton, was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital Tuesday about 2:15 p. m. She had taken ill earlier at the home.

A registered nurse, Mrs. Guyton was born in Millersburg, Ohio, Nov. 14, 1906, a daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Foreman, who resides in Millersburg, and the late A. L. Foreman. She had resided in this vicinity for 10 years. She was graduated from St. Joseph Hospital in Parkersburg, W. Va., and was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church and the Nurses Alumnae Association.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. David (Janis) Decker of Battle Creek, Mich.; a son, David R. Guyton of Rome, Italy; a step-daughter, Mrs. Ada Shore of Washington, D. C.; four sisters, Mrs. Blanche Batey of Akron, Mrs. Nell Reeves of Steubenville, Mrs. Thomas L. Nash of Parkersburg and Mrs. Charles Doyl of Barberton; three brothers, Lawrence E. Foreman of Coshocton, Col. James R. Foreman of Ft. Worth, Tex., and Capt. H. E. Foreman of Alexandria, Va., and three grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services. The family requests that material tributes take the form of donations to the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Memorial Fund.

Mrs. G. Hammerdahl

LISBON — Mrs. Else M. Hammerdahl, 65, co-owner of the Frola Motel on Route 30 just south of Lisbon, died at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Salem City Hospital.

She had been ill about one month and entered the hospital Monday.

Mrs. Hammerdahl and her husband, George, bought the motel three months ago and moved here from Bedminster, N. J., where they had resided 16 years.

She was born Dec. 30, 1900, in Aarhus, Denmark, a daughter of Julius and Helene Steffesen Rasmussen. She was a member of the Bedminster Lutheran Church.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a son, Gert, of Plainfield, N. J.; three brothers, Rudolph, Magnus and Laurits, all in Denmark, and one grandchild.

Services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Henry Funeral Home, with the Rev. T. P. Laughner of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Leetonia, officiating. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Carl Ogren

Carl Ogren of Ontaria, Calif., 50, a former resident of Georgetown and Midland, died suddenly of an apparent heart attack Tuesday morning.

He was married to the former Mildred Alexander of Georgetown. He left this area about 20 years ago. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ogren.

He is survived by a son, Carl Ogren Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Robert McGeehan, both of Ontario; a brother, Vincent Ogren of California, and five grandchildren.

Services and burial will be in California.

C. Wayne Shreve

C. Wayne Shreve of Clarksburg, W. Va., Route 3, died Tuesday at the Union Protestant Hospital in Clarksburg following a long illness.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mildred Shreve, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Leslie Jackson of Chester, Mrs. Kathryn Robinson of Beckley, W. Va., and Mrs. Margaret Hedrick of Smithville, Ohio; two sons, Raymond Shreve of Allentown, Pa., and Clifford Shreve of Plymouth, Ohio, and 13 grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Harmen Funeral Home in Shinnston, W. Va.

Drifting Auto Strikes Stop Sign's Standard

The standard of a city-owned stop sign at Apple Alley and E. 3rd St. was damaged Tuesday when struck by a drifting auto, police reported.

A 1961 sedan owned by Felix D. Perez, 24, of Pinellas, Fla., drifted on the grade and struck the sign, police said. Perez told Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins he parked the auto near the intersection and went into a nearby service station. A small child in the auto knocked the gear shift lever into neutral, causing it to drift, he said.

The collision also damaged a door on the Perez auto. It was timed at 10:04 a. m.

Traffic Case Set Thursday

A hearing is scheduled Thursday morning in Municipal Court for a 38-year-old LaCroft motorist cited by the State Highway Patrol Friday after his auto plunged off Route 267 between Glenmoor and LaCroft.

John C. Warrick of 5th Ave. is accused of driving too fast for conditions. The patrol said he was headed north on Route 267 and rounding a turn when his 1957 model car slid off the left side of the roadway, hit a gas meter in a yard and then struck a large pine tree.

Warrick's car then plunged over an embankment, "literally flew over the top of two 15-foot apple trees," landed in a yard and then bounced 60 feet into another apple tree, the patrol said. The motorist told the investigating officers he swerved to miss a dog on the roadway.

Meanwhile, George B. Collins of 117½ W. 6th St. was fined $25 and costs today by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving without an Ohio operator's permit. Cited July 6 n St. Clair Ave., Collins pleaded guilty on July 7 and his case was continued until today for sentencing to allow him to obtain a new permit.

The sentence was imposed when Collins returned to court today without a new license. At the time of his arrest, he was carrying a Pennsylvania license which expires Sept. 30, but the court pointed out an Ohio resident must have an Ohio driver's permit. Collins told the court he has resided in Ohio about five years.

vous and linkup with the Agena 10 in their first hours in space Monday night, Young and Collins expended considerably more spacecraft fuel than intended.

Instead of having 70 per cent of their 940-pound fuel supply remaining, they were down to 35 per cent. As a result, they curtailed many scientific and technological experiments, and ground controllers decided they should remain docked with Agena 10 instead of disconnecting from it Tuesday as planned.

BY USING the Agena engine for the maneuvers that set them up for the rendezvous with Agena 8, the astronauts conserved their vital spacecraft fuel. They used only 5 per cent Tuesday, making the high-altitude dash on the Agena's 16,000-pound-thrust main engine and using its two smaller thrusters for more delicate maneuvers.

NASA said the Agena 10 performed far better than expected and proved a manned space ship can join with a tanker satellite in orbit and use its fuel and motors for propulsion.

Agena 10 cannot be used for the Agena 8 rendezvous because its link with the Gemini 10 nose blocks the view of the astronauts. They must be able to see their target as they make the tricky final maneuvers to close in.

Agena 8 will be especially difficult to track down because it has no battery power, lights or radar transponder as did Agena 10.

The first hint of trouble on Collins' "stand-up" exercise came when Young contacted the Canton Island tracking station in the Pacific and reported that Collins was back in his seat and the hatch was closed. Both, he said, were having trouble with their eyes.

This was 25 minutes earlier than planned.

"Mike said he couldn't see anything at all," Young said. "Well, after he said that, I knew I couldn't see anything. So we had to call if off."

Young said smelly fumes spread through their space suits, causing tears to flow and their eyes to become red and swollen.

Both said it smelled like lithium hydroxide, which has a pungent odor similar to ammonia.

They were ordered to switch to a high-flow oxygen system, which cleansed the suit and cabin environmental control systems, shutting off the lithium hydroxide supply.

After a while the pilots reported the situation clearing. They switched back to the original system with no further trouble.

Asked when he first noticed the problem, Young replied: "Oh, I guess about sunrise (several minutes after Collins opened the hatch). I was crying a little through the night but I didn't say anything about it. I figured I'd be named a sissy. My eyes were watering but I just thought it was oxygen flowing."

"There's a beautiful view up here," he exclaimed. "I feel perfectly at home. I'm looking forward to the stunt coming up tomorrow."

Gemini 10 plans to return to earth Thursday, landing in the Atlantic about 500 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy at 4:07 p.m.

Developments Listed In Gemini 10 Flight

Successful descent from record height to desired orbit for interception of second target, the hulk of Agena 8.

Unidentified trouble in breathing system for open-hatch operations caused eye watering and sharp odor that cut short a standup by 20 minutes, but most of photography mission completed.

Conditions returned to normal after return to cabin air.

Scientists setting up test to try to fix cause of trouble before afternoon space walk on tether line. Suspect is lithium hydroxide, chemical used to cleanse cabin air.

Limit set on amount of fuel that can be used for rendezvous with Agena 8.

Space stroll given priority over rendezvous and in all likelihood be carried out even if rendezvous is cut off upon reaching fuel limit.

Resolution 14 was defeated. Its rejection means that run-off votes will not be required in elections for local union offices in which three or more candidates are contesting. The person receiving the highest vote will be declared the winner, rather than conducting a run-off election.

THE CONVENTION also adopted a resolution recommended by the resolutions committee and incorporating a series of points cited by Wheatley in his major address to the delegates.

—:—

THE RESOLUTION pledges the union to:

1. Continue to seek repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Law.

2. Campaign for amendment of the Fair Labor Standards Act to set a minimum wage of $2 hourly and double time pay after 35 hours.

3. Urge state and provincial labor organizations to work for separate state and provincial laws setting minimum wages at no less than federal standards.

4. Continue to support the AFL-CIO's political program as spelled out by COPE, the Committee on Political Action.

5. Urge the public to support North American industry by purchasing ceramic products made in North American plants.

6. Ask all employers who have contracts with the IBOP to display the union label on their products.

Mayor Elliott Roosevelt of Miami Beach welcomed the delegates at the opening session. William Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL - CIO, was unable to make a scheduled appearance, but wired regrets. The convention also received greetings from George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

STANDING committees were in session Tuesday morning and a general business session was held Tuesday afternoon. A memorial service was held for deceased members, with Tom Bandics giving the prayer. Fifteen resolutions in all were acted on. About 17 more will be acted upon before adjournment.

PLEASANT weather marked the first three days of the session, except for a heavy rain yesterday.

Some of the delegates were late in arriving because of the transportation crisis resulting from the airline strike. East Liverpool area potters, for instance, traveled 32 hours by bus to reach the convention city. One eastern delegate who made the trip by air was routed through Dallas and Tampa.

Delegates already are busy seeking transportation back to their homes. Veteran delegates termed the convention "quiet" except for the debate yesterday.

Many predicted the sessions will close this afternoon. One of the last acts will be selection of the city that will be the site of the next convention.

WHY WE CARRY GANT

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled into the warp and woof of every Gant shirt," there's flair, fit and show — three vital inherents that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, profile — how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

Tests Show No Evidence Of Disease

Cancer Believed Erased With Five Transplantings

CENTREVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Larry Rink of Centreville llearned Monday, after five times having cancercus tissue from other persons transplanted to him in experiments, that tests showed no evidence of cancer remaining in his 140-pound body.

"We cannot say he is cured," said Dr. Ray Houghton, Rink's physician. "But if the disease had progressed normally, Rink would have been dead three months ago.

"At this time there is no evidence of any cancer in Larry."

Houghton read a letter to his slender, 6-foot-1 patient, reporting that X-rays, laboratory tests and physical examinations at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., showed no signs of cancer. The institute declined comment.

The tests were taken early this month on Rink's third trip in five months to Roswell Park, where doctors had exchanged tumors between Rink and other persons.

Three persons involved in the transplant experiments died.

Rink, jubilant, exclaimed: "I'm going to make it now, even if it comes back — I just know it.

"Now I'll get my new leg and then I hope I can find a good job and take care of my wife and baby."

Rink's wife, Jeannie, 20, who expects their first child in September, is "real happy, she nearly bawled" when tests showed the disease was gone, Rink said.

Houghton cautioned that "you don't call a cancer patient cured until they go five to ten years without any evidence. It takes just a few cells to lie dormant and pop up again." He said present tests cannot find microscopic cancer."

THE THEORY behind the cancer transplants is based on the fact that the body fights foreign tissue. In attacking transplanted cancer cells, it was hoped, the body would simultaneously produce antibodies to attack its own cancer.

Rink said his cancer, osteogenic sarcoma, differed from that of the persons with whom he shared transplants because it was located in his lymph glands, rather than other sections of the body.

Houghton asked Rink to try the experimental transplants after reading about Robert Allen, 29, of Tucson Ariz., who was seeking someone to swap cancers in hope of conquering his disease.

Allen died, as did Thomas E. Welker, 21, of Conrad, Mont., the first two persons with whom Rink exchanged cancer tissues. A third man involved in the experiments at Roswell Park, Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., also died.

Rink has undergone the treatment since then with two unidentified persons. He said they are alive, but reports of their conditions were not available.

He said he felt that a cure was "always a possibility."

"I just don't worry about it. If my times comes, I'm just going to go."

The greatest snowstorm on record in the U.S. occurred in April of 1921, when 100 inches fell in 85 hours at Silver Lake, Colorado.

Ohio's Potato Growers Plan Field Day In County Aug. 3

LISBON — The A. C. McMaster & Son farm west of Columbiana will be host for the Ohio potato growers' field day Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Among exhibits will be storage designed for the McMasters by Richard S. Claycomb, consulting engineer of Pinewood, Minn. He will be present to discuss "Potato Storage Experiences and Observations."

The program will begin at 9 a.m., with lunch to be served at the farm by the Fairfield Ruritan Club.

Joe D. Pittman, Columbiana County extension agent, said exhibits and demonstrations will cover potato spraying, irrigation, harvesting, handling, grading and packaging.

Producers will view variety and weed control demonstration plots. Floyd Lower of Lisbon, retired Columbiana County extension agent, and E. C. Whittmeyer, extension horticulturist from Ohio State University, will discuss the demonstration plots.

V. E. Kerns, manager of the Ohio Potato Growers Association, will speak on "Potato Marketing."

Highway Death Tied To Hit-Skip Accident

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered in a traffic accident caused the death of a 29-year-old Chicago man whose body was found Sunday night on the Ohio Turnpike near Youngstown, Dr. Nathan Belinky, assistant Mahoning County coroner, ruled Tuesday.

Dr. Belinky said the victim, Aurelius Patterson, suffered a skull fracture and other injuries in a hit - skip accident.

During the gold-rush days, prices at the gold diggings were high onions and potatoes sold for a dollar each, and a live fowl cost $16.

In Louisiana, Aug. 30 is observed as Huey P. Long Day, a legal holiday; in Oklahoma, Nov. 4 is observed as Will Rogers Day.

Tests Show No Evidence Of Disease

Cancer Believed Erased With Five Transplantings

CENTREVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Larry Rink of Centreville llearned Monday, after five times having cancercus tissue from other persons transplanted to him in experiments, that tests showed no evidence of cancer remaining in his 140-pound body.

"We cannot say he is cured," said Dr. Ray Houghton, Rink's physician. "But if the disease had progressed normally, Rink would have been dead three months ago.

"At this time there is no evidence of any cancer in Larry."

Houghton read a letter to his slender, 6-foot-1 patient, reporting that X-rays, laboratory tests and physical examinations at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., showed no signs of cancer. The institute declined comment.

The tests were taken early this month on Rink's third trip in five months to Roswell Park, where doctors had exchanged tumors between Rink and other persons.

Three persons involved in the transplant experiments died.

Rink, jubilant, exclaimed: "I'm going to make it now, even if it comes back — I just know it.

"Now I'll get my new leg and then I hope I can find a good job and take care of my wife and baby."

Wellsville Area Resident Weds In Rites In Virginia

Miss Joyceanne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Smith of Wellsville R. D. 1, became the bride of Richard P. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Murphy of Lorton, Va., on July 7 in the Pohick Episcopal Church of Lorton.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. E. Buxton. Mrs. James Allan was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an A-line style gown of silk organza fashioned with a chapel train. The scalloped neckline and midriff were accented with appliques of pearl embroidered Alencon lace.

A PEARL and lace crown held her elbow - length veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a diamond teardrop necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid. In observing the familiar traditions, she carried an heirloom handkerchief.

Miss Darlene K. Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a poudre blue dress designed with a portrait neckline, elbow - length sleeves and lace bodice. Her veil was held in place by a pearl crown. She carried a nosegay of blue carnations and white tearoses.

Lyle S. Murphy of Falls Church, Va., served as his brother's best man. Ushers were William Murphy of Manassas, Va., another brother, and James Teague.

The mother of the bride wore a brown and white suit with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother an aqua crepe dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of white tearoses.

A RECEPTION followed in the social rooms.

Following a honeymoon in Bermuda, the newlyweds will reside in a newly - built home at Annandale, Va.

The bride, a 1960 graduate of Southern Local High School, was also graduated from Ohio Valley Business College. She is employed as a secretary with the Department of Agriculture in Washington.

Her husband was graduated in 1950 from William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Va. He is vice president of Murphy Brothers, Inc., at Falls Church.

Contract Signed For Fireworks In St. Rocco Fete

The contract for a fireworks display for the 10th annual St. Rocco Festival Aug. 8-14 was signed by Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

The display will be presented by the Zambelli Fireworks Co. of New Castle. The firm presented the show last year, which was termed the "best ever," and has promised the same again this year, council officers commented.

William Cataldo, general chairman, said the fireworks will be presented Saturday, Aug. 13, at the 13th St. ball park.

The general program chairman and six point program chairmen were named last night.

Joseph Giuliani, deputy grand knight, was named general chairman. The six point chairmen are Leonard DeFalco, Catholic activities; James Stevens, council activities; Sam Amato Jr., fraternal activities; Dan Osborne, youth activities; William Cataldo, membership and insurance, and Fred Baldasare, public relations.

The council approved a project of preparing the Immaculate Conception Parochial School for the opening in September. Repairs will begin after the St. Rocco event. James McPeak was named chairman. He will be assisted by Osborne, DeFalco, Andy Holowaty and Robert Graham.

250 See Lisbon Show

LISBON — About 250 attended a magic show presented Tuesday night at the high school auditorium by Col. F. M. Seymour and his wife, Frances, of Little Rock, Ark., under sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club. Proceeds will be used for the club's projects.

The tunnel entrance to an Eskimo's igloo has several purposes: it serves as a vestibule where loose snow may be brushed off; it keep snow and wind from blowing in; and it provides a sleeping place for the dogs.

Mission Auxiliary Given Report On Scholarships

Devotions concerning the African scholarship program were heard during the meeting of the Community Rescue Mission Auxiliary Monday night.

Carl Mansfield, superintendent, reviewed the experiences of Krispin Mkandawire of Malawi, Africa, who is studying journalism at Kent State University and lives at the mission.

He conducted a memorial service for Krispen's sister, Irene, who died recently in Africa. Krispen stays with Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield and is a participant in the "Experiment in International Living" under the African scholarship program of American universities.

Mrs. Edythe Kittridge accompanied group singing. Prayer was offered by Mrs. D. F. Reynolds.

Mrs. Audrey Compa, president, conducted business, during which the group arranged to send a letter of thanks to Miss Gladys DeBolt for gifts of ice tea spoons and silverware.

A discussion was held on the need of a record player for the Bible Club. Mrs. Phyllis Marshall, director, outlined the need and the women voted to save green stamps toward acquiring the player.

The group held a tea towel shower for the mission kitchen.

The next session will be Aug. 15, with the women of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church presenting the program and those of the First Baptist Church serving refreshments.

Honor Received By Dr. Solak In Education Field

Dr. Marilyn Madison Solak, a resident of Salineville, has been honored in the field of education.

A member of the School of Education faculty at Youngstown University, she has received the Bureau of Independent Publishers and Distributors plaque "in recognition of her contribution through her knowledge and judgment of suitable, contemporary leisure reading material for secondary school-age comprehension and enjoyment."

Dr. Solak is a member of a national committee of educators whose responsibility is to select appropriate publications for use in junior and senior high schools. The list of selections is published in a bibliography entitled "The Paperback Goes to School."

Dr. Solak has been a member of the university faculty since January 1965. She has her bachelor of arts degree from Mt. Union College, her master's in education from Kent State University and her doctorate in education from Western Reserve University.

Two Bonds Forfeited In Hearing For Raid

Delores DeHaven, licensee of the Clover Club, located on West Virginia Route 2, and Dorthea Tyson of East Liverpool, waitress, each forfeited $100 bonds for failure to appear at a hearing before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland Tuesday on liquor violation charges.

They had been charged with illegal possession of alcoholic liquor on licensed premises and illegally selling alcoholic beverages, respectively, by Hancock County sheriff's deputies after a raiding operation July 1.

Delegation Joins Auxiliary Parley In West Virginia

Representing Chester Post 121 were Mrs. Belva Morris, Mrs. Thelma Merriman and Mrs. Twyla Finley; Newell Post 114, Miss Elizabeth Hupp, Mrs. Sadie Nally, Mrs. Jean Hester and Mrs. Mae Hupp, and Lawrenceville Post 163, Mrs. Maxine Huffman and Mrs. Gloria VanDyke.

Mrs. Hupp retired from the office of First District president after serving for two years. She assisted the chaplain in a memorial service, along with five other district presidents.

The Lawrenceville group presented a letter received from Viet Nam expressing thanks for packages sent there.

Mrs. Finley served as chairman on the credentials committee.

Mrs. Betty Rea of Follansbee was elected state president for 1966-67.

Mrs. Hupp, Miss Hupp, Mrs. Merriman and Mrs. Finley also attended an 8 & 40 Departement Marche in Parkersburg Sunday night following the convention.

Mrs. Hupp was elected L'Archiviste for the coming year.

Vogel Gives Talk To Chester Club

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel reviewed his experiences as a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserves during the meeting of Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night in City Hall Auditorium.

He was introduced by Thayer Allison, program chairman.

Lloyd Mansfield reported that 36 members, wives and guests attended the Pittsburgh - San Francisco baseball game Monday night in Pittsburgh. The trip was made by chartered bus.

Sixteen attended last night's meeting.

The invocation was given by Rev. Vogel. Albert Kell presided.

The next meeting will be Tuesday.

Old Ohio And Erie

Canal Eyed As Park Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—A polluted remnant of Ohio's lusty pioneer days may become the state's newest and largest national park.

Planners of the federal National Park Service are studying a proposal to convert a stretch of the old Ohio and Erie Canal from an abandoned and polluted relic into a modern monument to the days when barges carried commerce from Cleveland to Portsmouth.

The national park idea was advanced by U. S. Rep. Charles Vanik, a Cleveland Democrat. It has reached the point of study by national park experts.

Vanik envisions not one sprawling park, but a series of 20,000 separate recreation areas along a 35-mile stretch of the canal between Akron and Cleveland. Much of the land which might be converted to national park use is already owned by the state.

Some other sections have already been turned over to city or county governments for parks.

Other areas along the canal have been leased to steel mills and other industries which use the water in manufacturing.

Most of the 308-mile canal is dry now, but the section from the Akron area into Cleveland still has water flowing from the Cuyahoga River.

"Pollution is the first problem," Vanik said. "Can you imagine having a picnic by the canal or river now?"

But industries and cities are working to stop pollution of the Cuyahoga River and eventually make the canal water as fresh as it was in the middle 1800s when barges plied the route from Cleveland to Portsmouth in four days.

The first firm step toward restoration of the canal as a national park is to get a preliminary report from the federal Interior Department. Then legislation or federal administrative action would be needed —and the cooperation of the state, which owns much of the canal land.

State officials have not been formally contacted about the plans yet. But machinery exists for Ohio to convert idle canal lands into public recreational uses and Park Division Chief Melvin Rebholz said, "Any action along this line, whether local, state or federal, would certainly be most welcome."

He agreed with Vanik on the need for park facilities in the area of 2.25 million people.

Two planners, Andrew G. Feil of Philadelphia and Robert A. Lobdell of Ann Arbor, Mich., followed June 30 with an inspection to study prospects for converting the canal from a dirty, weed-clotted eyesore into scenic recreation areas.

Area Red Cross Appoints 2 Committees For Annual Even

Appointed to the nominating committee were Dean Wilhelm, the Rev. Charles Haddock, James Locke and Mrs. Charles Gerace.

On the committee for the annual meeting are Mrs. Edward Adkins, Mrs. Arthur Doak, James Walker, Mrs. Lawrence Black and William Kyle.

Norman Nicely, chapter chairman, presented a proposed budget of $19,907 for 1966-67 which the chapter voted to present for consideration by the United Fund budget committee. The local need will be $19,707 through the United Fund with $300 to be set as a goal for the Salineville area.

In other action, the board approved a general statement on policy and scope of the Red Cross program of aid for servicemen, veterans and their families. The statement was presented by Charles Lang.

Harold Sneddon presented the chapter's revised personnel policy which was approved. A report on activities of the Gray Ladies was given by Mrs. J. Donald Thompson.

Miss Mary Catherine Brady, executive director, said 159 have received certificates in the Red Cross swimming program at Thompson Park with 259 enrolled. Plans for a picnic for volunteer aides rather than holding a water show were approved.

Blair Clarifies Statement About Crossing Guards

Supt. Paul Blair today clarified a statement concerning the appointment of additional crossing guards on Harvey Ave. in conjunction with the closing of the Klondyke School and transfer of students to Neville School.

Blair explained that Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey has promised to cooperate in having two more guards assigned to Harvey Ave., but did not promise their actual appointment.

The approval has to come from the City Council finance chairman, Blair said. A letter has been sent Council asking funds be made available for two additional guards, one at Myrtle St. and the other at Elizabeth St.

Blair said Vodrey, himself and members of the Board of Education have visited the area and feel the additional guards are justified.

The Morse Code was invented by Alfred Vail, a co-worker of Samuel Morse on the telegraph.

Fined $10 And Costs

NEW CUMBERLAND—Darla A. Smith, 25, of Newell was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron here Tuesday after being charged by Hancock County sheriff's deputies with failure to have her vehicle under control.

Blair explained that Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey has promised to cooperate in having two more guards assigned to Harvey Ave., but did not promise their actual appointment.

The approval has to come from the City Council finance chairman, Blair said. A letter has been sent Council asking funds be made available for two additional guards, one at Myrtle St. and the other at Elizabeth St.

Blair said Vodrey, himself and members of the Board of Education have visited the area and feel the additional guards are justified.

Fined $10 And Costs

NEW CUMBERLAND—Darla A. Smith, 25, of Newell was fined $10 and costs by Squire John D. Herron here Tuesday after being charged by Hancock County sheriff's deputies with failure to have her vehicle under control.

Final Votes Due On Five Changes In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House and Senate prepared to cast final votes today on proposed constitutional amendments after which the measures will head to the opposite chambers.

Five bills from the Scranton Administration's eight - bill package were moved into position for final votes Tuesday. The Democratic House moved 15 proposed revisions into this position.

In general, the administration package is considered to be more sweeping than the House's.

The five Senate bills would permit a one - term succession for future governors; eliminate the state's $1 million debt limit; lower voting residency requirements to 90 days; ease the process for amending the constitution; and revamp local governments.

House Democrats also submitted two more constitutional amendments which were given speedy committee approval.

One measure would require that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor run as a unit in elections, thus avoiding the possibility of the two top state officials coming from different parties.

The 15 House bills were amended before they were advanced. The major amendments provided that the measures be submitted to the voters in a primary rather than in a general election.

House Majority Whip Herbert Fineman said the proposed revisions would get more publicity in a primary.

Senate Republicans fought down an attempt by Democratic Senators to change two of the five Constitutional proposals.

Sesler said the administration merely dusted off last year's constitutional package and prepared the measures in haste. He reiterated his belief that the Constitution could best be amended by a convention.

McGregor denied that any haste was invoved. He said the proposed revisions were needed so government could operate more efficiently.

Sen. Paul W. Mahady, D - Westmoreland, tried to change the debt limitation bill so that the state would be permitted to incur a debt for educational purposes.

Sesler wanted to change the bill dealing with revamping local governments. He described his amendment as corrective in nature and said this merely pointed out his contention that the bill was prepared in haste.

$200 Loss Estimated In Klondyke Burglary

Loss was estimated at $200 in a burglary discovered Tuesday at the warehouse of the S. H. Bell Co. at 2117 Michigan Ave., Klondyke, police reported.

Paul Vincent, general manager, told Patrolman Orin C. Smith intruders escaped with an acetylene torch, 50 feet of hose and two gauges. He said the theft took place sometime between 6 p. m. Friday and 8:30 a. m. Tuesday. The loss was discovered by Ed Boyer, a mechanic employed by the firm.

Thompson Park Site For Reunion

Fifty attended the fifth Orin-Dunn reunion at Thompson Park Sunday.

Prizes were received by Charlie Dawson, oldest man; Hattie Billman, oldest woman; Tammy Linn Dunn, youngest child; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Smith, with the largest family, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Orin, traveling the farthest distance.

Plans were set for the next reunion in July 1967.

Move Stuns Federal Aides

Airlines Walkout Faces Extension In Union Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-day airline strike approached a crucial showdown today with a union maneuver that threatens to stretch the costly, crippling walkout another two weeks.

The decision of the striking Machinists' Union to take a "vote of confidence" among all 35,000 strikers in some 30 cities if there is no contract agreement today stunned top federal officials and negotiators for the five grounded airlines.

The only hope for shortening the strike that has already taken much of the joy and the money out of the nation's peak summer tourist season apparently lay in government pressure to win a settlement before the union's 5 p.m. EDT deadline.

That left just seven hours from the opening of today's talks at 10 a.m.

A union vote without an agreement between company and union negotiators is virtually certain to reject the last airlines' proposal, sources in the talks said. And negotiations would cease during the week it would take to conduct the balloting.

Negotiations with United, National, Eastern, Northwest and Trans World airlines would have to begin all over again if the union members voted no. And even a prompt agreement then would mean still another week to take a second ratification vote.

"There must be a better way than that," said one high government official.

In the unusual move, union Vice President Joseph W. Ramsey said if no settlement is reached by 5 p.m., the airlines' latest offer would be presented to the strikers for a vote.

This appeared to harden the stance of the airline negotiators who, Ramsey complained, already had "their feet planted in cement."

Both sides indicated the stalemated negotiations were right back where they started when the strike began July 8.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz talked with the presidents of four of the strikebound airlines and kept the White House informed of developments.

While there was no sign President Johnson would step in as he did to settle stalemated steel and railroad negotiations in the past, informed sources said White House intervention was a possibility.

However, with all legal delays exhausted, there was little Johnson could do except move the talks to the White House and step up federal pressure.

The last reported airlines' offer was 48 cents per hour in wage increases over a 42-month contract, compared with the union demand of 53 cents over 36 months.

However, it was learned, the airlines had boosted the ante to 50 cents before Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds glumly declared the latest deadlock and the union vote proposal.

Top airline mechanics now earn $3.52 per hour plus fringe benefits.

Charges Dismissed In Shotgun Hearing

A charge filed against a Wellsville area man for carrying a loaded shotgun and using it in a menacing manner was dismissed Tuesday by Mayor William Daugherty.

Harley Morrell of Wellsville R. D., was arrested Sunday about 5 a. m. in the 1300 block of Main St. Police said he was carrying a loaded, sawed - off shotgun and using it in a menacing manner. But he did not threaten any one individual, police said.

Morrell also was charged with intoxication and was fined $25 and costs by the mayor.

Plan Finished On New Span By Consultant

W. E. Quicksall & Associates, a New Philadelphia consulting engineering firm, has completed detailed construction plans for an auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St., which means the State Highway Department probably will open contractors' bids this fall.

Quicksall's plans were forwarded today to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey by Don McDowell, bridge engineer. He said the original tracings were turned over to the State Highway Department.

Mayor George E. Willshaw said latest indications are that the state will call for contractors' bids this fall. He said the state's original estimate called for a contract to be let in 1969, but the project later was assigned a higher priority.

The overall cost is estimated at approximately $170,000, including $140,000 for the actual construction and $30,000 for rights-of-way and other expenses.

Sunnyside area residents began a campaign for construction of the span several years ago after construction of the first stage of the Freeway bisected W. 9th St. at the site of former Chesnut St. The state and the federal governments will pay most of the cost of the span, as they shared the expense of the original Freeway construction.

Meanwhile, field survey crews from the firm of Glaus, Pyle and Schomer, Youngstown engineering firm, have started surveys along Liston St. as a preliminary to another state project that calls for widening, resurfacing and easing of curves on the stretch from W. 8th St. to the city limits.

Federal aid to state and local governments has more than tripled in the last 10 years, rising from $4 billion in 1947 to $15 billion budgeted for 1967.

U.S. Planes May Bypass Three Bases Near Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials said today U.S. planes probably will not hit the three jet air bases near Hanoi unless the North Vietnamese air force becomes more of a threat.

A Defense Department spokesman said the bases are a latent threat.

But he added: "Until North Viet Nam puts up a substantial challenge to our air operations, the fields probably will remain a lower priority target."

In May, after a rash of dogfights between U.S. and Communist planes, U.S. officials implied that the air strips would be attacked if more American planes were shot down.

Since then, the Pentagon said, four U.S. jets have been shot down in dogfights with Communist planes. Saigon officials list five U.S. planes lost in aerial combat. But officials apparently do not regard this as ample justification to take out North Vietnamese bases at Gia Lam, Phuc Yen and Kep.

In all, four U.S. jets have been shot down in dogfights with the Communists beginning in 1965.

The Defense Department says the North Vietnamese, on the other hand, have lost 17 of their Soviet-built MIGs, including three of the later, more maneuverable MIG21s.

The United States has lost about 290 planes of all types in the air and ground war in Viet Nam, the Pentagon reports.

Defense officials say Hanoi has been losing planes faster than they are being replaced. Either the Soviet Union or Communist China, or both, have been doing the providing.

"It is our best estimate that they probably come primarily from the Soviet Union," Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said last weekend.

Vance, content to describe the North Vietnamese air force as "relatively small," said the Hanoi regime has approximately 15 to 20 MIG21 supersonic aircraft, approximately 40 of the older MIG15s and 17s, and six of the old Soviet IL28 bombers.

These figures compare with about 11 MIG21s, 55 to 60 MIG15s and 17s, and six IL28s the Reds were believed to have had at the beginning of the year, Vance said.

Political considerations, however, enter the picture. President Johnson and his top advisers have moved cautiously in expanding bombing operations in the North for fear of drawing a military response from Red China.

So, as long as North Vietnamese pilots have little success in their occasional forays against American fliers, the bases appear likely to remain on the U.S. list of potential but not priority targets.

9 Chosen For Beaver County College Voting

BEAVER — Announcement of nine proposed trustees for Beaver County's new community college is to be made Thursday, according to the nominating committee which met Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

Dr. Louis Bender of Harrisburg, director of community colleges for the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, spoke at last night's meeting, stressing the importance of selecting people capable of properly administering the college program.

More than 300 airports in the United States are expected to be equipped to handle jet service by 1970 compared with 112 this year.

Youth Killed On Bike Near Beaver Falls

A 10-year-old Chippewa boy was fatally injured Tuesday night when his bicycle was struck by an auto on 37th St. Ext. near Beaver Falls, and he was hurled into the air and dragged some 44 feet.

Gregory George Eckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Eckman, died at Beaver Falls unity of Providence Hospital from compound fractures of the skull and legs.

Officers said he was riding east about two blocks from his home when he swerved across the center of the road into the path of a car driven by David Kross, 18, of Chippewa.

The boy was the 27th traffic victim in Beaver County so far this year.

Services will be held Friday morning at 10 at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the A. D. Campbell Funeral Home at Beaver Falls after noon Thursday.

Man Receives Fine In Pedestrian Case

LISBON — Robert Lee Woodburn, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 4, charged with reckless operation Saturday night after striking a pedestrian on the Square, pleaded guilty Tuesday before Mayor Dean Stockman and was fined $25 and costs.

The pedestrian, Mrs. Elizabeth Polite of 234 W. Lincoln Way, received abrasions and contusions. She is a cook at the County Jail, but has not worked this week.

The flute was a great favorite with the ancient Greeks and Romans, one of the great flutists of the past being Cleopatra's father, Ptolemy, who is generally known in history as Ptolemy the Flute-player.

'Workshops' Set By GOP In Move To Get Out Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced a drive today to strengthen local GOP organizations in an effort to get the large nonvoting segment of the party to the polls in the 1966 Congressional elections.

Bliss said the national committee will sponsor a series of state and congressional district workshops to stimulate local organizational efforts.

There is no shortage of Republicans, said Bliss. But far too many of them don't bother voting.

He pointed to surveys showing that about 30 per cent of the eligible voters who say they are Republicans don't go to the polls election day.

"In view of the current dissatisfaction with the Johnson administration, I believe we can score a major victory next November if we get our voters to the polls," Bliss said.

The nation's airlines carried 442 million ton miles of airmail last year, a 19 per cent increase over 1964.

'Workshops' Set By GOP In Move To Get Out Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced a drive today to strengthen local GOP organizations in an effort to get the large nonvoting segment of the party to the polls in the 1966 Congressional elections.

Bliss said the national committee will sponsor a series of state and congressional district workshops to stimulate local organizational efforts.

There is no shortage of Republicans, said Bliss. But far too many of them don't bother voting.

He pointed to surveys showing that about 30 per cent of the eligible voters who say they are Republicans don't go to the polls election day.

"In view of the current dissatisfaction with the Johnson administration, I believe we can score a major victory next November if we get our voters to the polls," Bliss said.

The nation's airlines carried 442 million ton miles of airmail last year, a 19 per cent increase over 1964.

$30,800 Announced In Sclerosis Drive

YOUNGSTOWN — The 1966 fund drive of the Tru-Mah-Col (Trumbull - Mahoning - Columbiana counties) Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has ended, with $30,800 raised.

Kenneth L. Yarian, chapter campaign chairman, said:

"Contributions this year were up 19 per cent over last. The residents of the tri-county area are to be congratulated on this outstanding achievement.

"As our income grows, we are able to extend and expand services to the some 250 MS patients in our community, and more funds can be channeled to the society's national research program, all of which gives added hope to patients and their families."

Bonds were set at $300 each for Coleman and William Robert Hall of 801 Green Ln., Ralph W. Smith of 327 Broadway and William Raymond Moore of 451 Ray St.

All were released on bond except Smith, who still is being held in lieu of bond.

Coleman turned himself in. Hall was arrested in East Liverpool and the other two turned themselves in.

Police said the three heard of Coleman's arrest and went to City Hall to visit him. It was while they were there the lock was forced.

Fine Ordered For Littering

LISBON — Robert M. Possage, 47, of West Point, owner of a Route 164 junkyard just southwest of the Lisbon village limits, was fined $25 and costs on a littering charge Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest court.

Acting Judge Richard D. Kennedy suspended $20 of the fine on condition Possage keep the right of way clear of junk.

Possage pleaded "no contest" to the State Highway Patrol charge that on July 7 he did "unlawfully place parts of automobiles and junk automobiles and leave said parts and automobiles along and near Route 164 on the roadway right of way."

Fined $10 and costs each on traffic charges were George Mike Batcha, 37, West Point, speeding; Barry L. Whitaker, 19, Maple Hill, Salineville, speeding, and Clarence O. Stewart, 71, Minerva, failure to yield the right of way.

Eugene Shaffer, 21, Cleveland, failed to appear on a charge of passing without assured clear distance and forfeited a $20 bond.

Judge Kennedy ordered two men cited by Game Protector V. A. Carpenter to pay fines of $10 and costs. They were Carl E. Miller, 347 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, operating a motor vehicle in a Division of Wildlife area, and James Nye, Canton, fishing in Zepernick Lake without a valid license.

Guards Pulled Off Patrols In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — National Guardsmen were pulled off patrols of the West Side Tuesday night and the area which was the scene of rioting by Negroes last week went through a quiet night.

It was the first night since the National Guard was activated Friday that the troops were not sent into the area to aid police in controlling outbreaks of violence.

The Little Things

Foreign Students Take Souvenirs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two out-of-date Ohio license plates, a broken ski, a flour sifter, a couple of old copies of Playboy magazine, and about 15 tons of excess fat.

That may not sound like a list of tourist souvenirs of a trip to the United States, but for 3,086 youngsters, it was.

There was, of course, a smattering of models of the Statue of Liberty, picture post cards of the White House at night and a few Indian blankets.

But after living in this country for nearly a year under "typical American home" conditions, 3,086 teen-agers from 59 foreign countries were far more interested in returning home with, as one put it, "the idiotic little things we can't get or can't afford in our own countries."

The teen-agers arrived late last summer to live and study in the United States under the auspices of the American Field Service. They stayed with American families and many, who were high school seniors when they arrived, were returning home with diplomas from American schools.

As they gathered here during their last week in this country, they had curious souvenir lists and some frank comments about the American way of life.

Most startling for many of the students were Americans' strange drinking habits. Some sample comments:

Stella de la Garma, 18, of Mar Del Plata, Argentina: "We have no drinking age (limit) in Argentina. Anybody can drink any time, so nobody ever gets drunk. But here, kids get drunk just because it's against the law."

Hans Joerg Niebergall, 18, of Bremen, Germany: "American beer tastes like soapy water. And Americans pour beer down the side of glasses to keep foam down. That's just making bad beer worse."

Jose Filomino, 19, of Sao Paulo, Brazil: "In my country, if you can reach the bar, you can order a beer."

But, apparently in Brazil, he can't get old Confederate flags because they number among Jose's souvenirs, as does a set of Ohio license plates.

"There's no particular reason for them," he said. "I just like them."

One rather universal souvenir among the students was excess personal poundage.

Nearly all of them gained weight, they said, in amounts varying from 6 to 35 pounds. If conservatively averaged at 10 pounds per student, this totals more than 15 tons.

Jacksonville Struck By Bands Of Vandals

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Bands of vandals gave Jacksonville a second straight night of racial violence that was quelled only after police placed a curfew on a Negro business and residential area.

Police Sgt. J. T. Lowe said 12 persons — all Negroes and mostly teen-agers — were arrested. Many minor injuries were reported from the sporadic attacks by small bands.

Mayor Louis H. Ritter, who sounded out Gov. Haydon Burns Tuesday about calling out the National Guard if necessary, said city police were able to handle the situation, with the help of some state troopers.

"As long as it gets no worse we can handle it," Ritter said, adding that he would ask for troops in event of a riot.

Fires caused $1,000 damage to a laundry and unspecified damage to a grocery. Police said both were believed to have been set by homemade fire bombs.

Youth Grange Crowns Pair

LISBON — Joann Simon of Unity Grange and Ronald Sanor of Willow Grove Grange were crowned princess and prince at the Columbiana County Yout Grange banquet Tuesday night at Mt. Nebo Grange Hall.

The royal couple succeed Janet and Donald Courtney of Mile Branch Grange, sister and brother, who reigned last year, and will represent Columbiana County at the State Grange convention in October at Cincinnati.

Women of Mt. Nebo served dinner to 60. Fifteen of the 22 granges were represented.

Harry Cook of North Bloomfield, state Grange overseer, was principal speaker. He called attention to the National Grange Centennial in 1967.

Remarks were given by Charles Morlan of Mt. Nebo, county Grange deputy, and Lowell Smith of Greeley Grange, Pomona Grange master.

Mrs. Edward Schmidt of Salem R. D. 3, youth chairman of Pomona Grange, was in charge of the program. Louise Klitz of Unity Grange gave a reading. Unity also presented a skit featuring Henry Klitz, Mrs. Edith Fox, Miss Dorothy Rauch, Miss Simon, Sharon Mollenkopf and Miss Klitz.

Mrs. Henry Klitz was narrator. Allen Schmidt of Perry Grange played the piano for group singing.

Mansfield retained hope that the Communists will not go through with their threat to try the captured Americans as war criminals.

But he said "Hanoi should recognize the feeling in this country, both among its citizens and its Congress, on this matter and consider the consequences."

Kuchel said the Hanoi regime would "bring down the wrath of the world" if it tries the Americans.

Dirksen said if such trials are held the world can expect to be assaulted with a taped radio-television barrage of propaganda. He predicted there may be "brain-washed confessions" from American fliers.

"The trials will be as indecent and as one-sided as it is possible for the Communists to make them," he said. "This is one of the real benefits they hope to reap in world propaganda."

Dirksen said he had found after investigation that there is little, if any, hope of exchanging American prisoners for North Vietnamese captured in South Viet Nam.

He said he had undertaken this investigation at the request of a Navy commander's wife, whom he did not name. He said she represented an association of U.S. prisoners' relatives.

The most recent Pentagon count of American prisoners in North Viet Nam is 62, including 45 airmen. The number of pilots has not been disclosed.

Bonds were set at $300 each for Coleman and William Robert Hall of 801 Green Ln., Ralph W. Smith of 327 Broadway and William Raymond Moore of 451 Ray St.

All were released on bond except Smith, who still is being held in lieu of bond.

Coleman turned himself in. Hall was arrested in East Liverpool and the other two turned themselves in.

Police said the three heard of Coleman's arrest and went to City Hall to visit him. It was while they were there the lock was forced.

Fine Ordered For Littering

LISBON — Robert M. Possage, 47, of West Point, owner of a Route 164 junkyard just southwest of the Lisbon village limits, was fined $25 and costs on a littering charge Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest court.

Acting Judge Richard D. Kennedy suspended $20 of the fine on condition Possage keep the right of way clear of junk.

Possage pleaded "no contest" to the State Highway Patrol charge that on July 7 he did "unlawfully place parts of automobiles and junk automobiles and leave said parts and automobiles along and near Route 164 on the roadway right of way."

Fined $10 and costs each on traffic charges were George Mike Batcha, 37, West Point, speeding; Barry L. Whitaker, 19, Maple Hill, Salineville, speeding, and Clarence O. Stewart, 71, Minerva, failure to yield the right of way.

Eugene Shaffer, 21, Cleveland, failed to appear on a charge of passing without assured clear distance and forfeited a $20 bond.

Judge Kennedy ordered two men cited by Game Protector V. A. Carpenter to pay fines of $10 and costs. They were Carl E. Miller, 347 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, operating a motor vehicle in a Division of Wildlife area, and James Nye, Canton, fishing in Zepernick Lake without a valid license.

Guards Pulled Off Patrols In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — National Guardsmen were pulled off patrols of the West Side Tuesday night and the area which was the scene of rioting by Negroes last week went through a quiet night.

It was the first night since the National Guard was activated Friday that the troops were not sent into the area to aid police in controlling outbreaks of violence.

The Little Things

Foreign Students Take Souvenirs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two out-of-date Ohio license plates, a broken ski, a flour sifter, a couple of old copies of Playboy magazine, and about 15 tons of excess fat.

That may not sound like a list of tourist souvenirs of a trip to the United States, but for 3,086 youngsters, it was.

There was, of course, a smattering of models of the Statue of Liberty, picture post cards of the White House at night and a few Indian blankets.

But after living in this country for nearly a year under "typical American home" conditions, 3,086 teen-agers from 59 foreign countries were far more interested in returning home with, as one put it, "the idiotic little things we can't get or can't afford in our own countries."

The teen-agers arrived late last summer to live and study in the United States under the auspices of the American Field Service. They stayed with American families and many, who were high school seniors when they arrived, were returning home with diplomas from American schools.

As they gathered here during their last week in this country, they had curious souvenir lists and some frank comments about the American way of life.

Most startling for many of the students were Americans' strange drinking habits. Some sample comments:

Stella de la Garma, 18, of Mar Del Plata, Argentina: "We have no drinking age (limit) in Argentina. Anybody can drink any time, so nobody ever gets drunk. But here, kids get drunk just because it's against the law."

Hans Joerg Niebergall, 18, of Bremen, Germany: "American beer tastes like soapy water. And Americans pour beer down the side of glasses to keep foam down. That's just making bad beer worse."

Jose Filomino, 19, of Sao Paulo, Brazil: "In my country, if you can reach the bar, you can order a beer."

But, apparently in Brazil, he can't get old Confederate flags because they number among Jose's souvenirs, as does a set of Ohio license plates.

One rather universal souvenir among the students was excess personal poundage.

Nearly all of them gained weight, they said, in amounts varying from 6 to 35 pounds. If conservatively averaged at 10 pounds per student, this totals more than 15 tons.

Jacksonville Struck By Bands Of Vandals

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Bands of vandals gave Jacksonville a second straight night of racial violence that was quelled only after police placed a curfew on a Negro business and residential area.

Police Sgt. J. T. Lowe said 12 persons — all Negroes and mostly teen-agers — were arrested. Many minor injuries were reported from the sporadic attacks by small bands.

Mayor Louis H. Ritter, who sounded out Gov. Haydon Burns Tuesday about calling out the National Guard if necessary, said city police were able to handle the situation, with the help of some state troopers.

"As long as it gets no worse we can handle it," Ritter said, adding that he would ask for troops in event of a riot.

Fires caused $1,000 damage to a laundry and unspecified damage to a grocery. Police said both were believed to have been set by homemade fire bombs.

More Veiled Warnings Directed Toward Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen says that even if no executions are ordered, "the American people will want to go whole hog" against North Viet Nam if Hanoi puts captured U.S. pilots on trial.

Views similar to that expressed by the Senate Republican leader at a news conference Tuesday were reflected in statements by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

Cooper said any violation of the Geneva prisoners of war convention by North Viet Nam "could provoke responses which would increase and increase into total barbaric conflict." Hanoi signed the convention in 1957.

"The possibility of a trial of these prisoners, and the unknown ultimate results of such a trial, should shock the conscience of the world and ought to lead every country in the world to express its condemnation," Cooper said.

Mansfield retained hope that the Communists will not go through with their threat to try the captured Americans as war criminals.

But he said "Hanoi should recognize the feeling in this country, both among its citizens and its Congress, on this matter and consider the consequences."

Kuchel said the Hanoi regime would "bring down the wrath of the world" if it tries the Americans.

Dirksen said if such trials are held the world can expect to be assaulted with a taped radio-television barrage of propaganda. He predicted there may be "brain-washed confessions" from American fliers.

"The trials will be as indecent and as one-sided as it is possible for the Communists to make them," he said. "This is one of the real benefits they hope to reap in world propaganda."

Dirksen said he had found after investigation that there is little, if any, hope of exchanging American prisoners for North Vietnamese captured in South Viet Nam.

He said he had undertaken this investigation at the request of a Navy commander's wife, whom he did not name. He said she represented an association of U.S. prisoners' relatives.

Caucus Decision May Hold Fate Of Birth Control

HARRISBURG (AP) — The fate of the state's controversial birth control program appears to rest within the Democratic House caucus, now that the 1966-67 budget fight has gone to a joint conference committee.

High sources confided that Appropriations Chairman Martin P. Mullen, the leading anti-birth control force in the legislature, has agreed to abide by a caucus decision on whether to press the matter in the conference committee.

Mullen has been carrying the fight to prevent the Public Welfare Department from using state funds to distribute or provide family planning information to public assistance recipients upon their request.

He had planned to attempt to insert a clause in one of the House's 220 individual budget appropriation bills that would bar state funds from being spent to provide birth control information.

The House initiated the budget fight three months ago by introducing these individual bills instead of the customary single bill to cover state spending.

But now that the matter has been given to the six - man conference committee, Mullen's strategy is impossible, since the action mans the House is willing to abandon its plan of using individual appropriations.

House Democrats agreed to the committee Tuesday after they refused to condur in Senate amendments to one of the House's individual appropriation bills.

Mullen was designated as one of the House conferees, so he could conceivably force the question in committee.

But the sources said he has agreed to remain silent if he is voted down by his Democratic colleagues.

He had claimed that he had enough votes to win his fight on the floor, but highly placed legislators said they did not think he could win behind the closed-doors of his caucus.

No caucus action is anticipated until preliminaries to the budget negotiations are ironed out. The leadership of both chambers planned to discuss ground rules today.

Majority Leader Joshua Eilburg, like Mullen, a Philadelphia Democrat, was selected as the second House Democrat on the conference committee while Minority Republicans chose Rep. Adam Bower, their caucus chairman.

Senate conferees are Republican Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, Bedford, Appropriations Chairman Robert D. Fleming, R - Allegheny, and Assistant Democratic Minority Leader William J. Lane.

House action on the budget prompted Senate Republicans to release from committee a bill to afford a state - related status to the University of Pittsburgh.

The GOP retained in the Appropriations Committee, however, a $19.8 million companion measure providing the money for a tuition reduction at Pitt.

Fleming said he was confident the additional funds for the lower tuition would pass eventually, but not until a compromise on the budget was at hand.

However, Sen. George J. Sarraf, D - Allegheny, accused the Republicans of "breaking faith" with Democrats by refusing to release the money bill to the floor.

"An area of basic agreement (on the budget) cannot be reached unless there is assurance that the Republican Senate is sincerely interested in eventually passing the Pitt tuition proposal," Sarraf declared in a statement. "As of this time it has be made clear that such sincerity does not exist."

In other developments:

Sales tax—The House passed a bill which would increase the sales tax exemption on food and beverage sales in a restaurant from 50 cents to $1 and sent it to the Senate, 167-31. The legislation would cost the state an estimated $7 million in tax revenue if passed.

Confirmations — The Senate confirmed, 48-0, two major cabinet appointments by the governor: Edward Friedman as attorney general succeeding the late Walter E. Alessandroni and Oil City Mayor Joseph W. Barr Jr. as the state's first secretary of Community Affairs.

State Police — Majority and minority reports on the manpower needs of the state police were formally submitted by the Special House investigating committee. The majority Democrats called for a 250 - man increase as previously reported with further needs to be determined by an independent manpower consultant. Three of the four Republicans urged a 600-man increase as proposed by the Administration. Rep. Guy Kistler, R - Cumberland, declined to sign either report.

Phillis

Phillis last week filed notice he is appealing his discharge from the Columbiana home post to the Seventh District Court of Appeals. He lost appeals to the Ohio Personnel Board of Review and Common Pleas Court.

In sustaining the commissioners' discharge order, Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court last March found evidence to support three of the nine charges made in the letter of dismissal. The three were "physically abusing inmates of the home, drunkenness, and abuse of the county commissioners or their agents."

Nurse

during the confrontation with Miss Amurao and remained depressed after she left.

The City Jail Hospital administrative director, C. William Ruddle, said Miss Amurao, dressed in a nurse's uniform, was taken by Dr. Norcross to Speck's room.

Ruddle said Dr. Norcross spent five minutes examining Speck as Miss Amurao stood behind him. Dr. Norcross did not observe the girl's reaction, he said, nor did he hear her say anything.

A spokesman at South Chicago Community Hospital, where the eight students were in training, said Miss Amurao was placed under sedation.

Chief counsel Gerald Getty of the public defender's office was appointed Tuesday by Judge Daniel Ryan as Speck's attorney.

Dr. Norcross told Judge Ryan that Speck was physically unable to appear in court and advised against the alternative of convening court at Speck's bedside.

Rioting

moaned a Negro shop owner sitting guard at his place. But it also was Negro against policeman much of the time.

"I hate police," blurted Willie Jones, a Negro, after he heard a friend tell of being beaten by police on the first night of the rioting.

At an intersection in the worst trouble spot, Percy Giles, 36, of suburban Cleveland Heights fell at 8:55 with a bullet in the back of the head.

There was no official report of who shot Giles.

A Negro man at the scene said the shooting came after bottles were hurled at police cars. A crowd of Negroes milled around.

Policemen fired their weapons.

"They shot him! They shot him!" cried some of the Negroes. "This is too much!"

Policemen and firemen raced from one spot to another, chasing looters, exchanging fire with snipers and trying to douse the fires, igniting in building after building.

Tear gas was fired into a building near the spot where the fatal shooting took place as police tried to flush out a sniper.

Slides Bring Viet Scene Home To Local Rotarians

The beauty, and not the devastation, of war-torn Viet Nam was brought out in color slides screened by John Starkey during Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel.

Starkey illustrated his discussion with the slides which he took while on duty there.

He described the Vietnamese people as "small and delicate" and not typically Oriental in appearance. He showed scenes of several Saigon streets and landmarks which have become widely known because of their role in the present strife — including the Majestic Hotel and the "floating restaurant" in the Saigon River.

He characterized the Vietnamese language as being "tonal", and difficult to learn.

Gordon Starkey, John's father, was program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians at yesterday's meeting included A. T. Knabb and George Schweizer of Weirton, David Adler of Steubenville, Sal Glorioso of Midland and Harvey Moninger of Louisville, Ky., a former local resident.

National Farm Safety Week Brings Tips That Will Help

LISBON — The Columbiana County Extension Office here urges public recognition of national Farm Safety Week beginning Sunday.

Miss Karen Ruggles, summer 4-H assistant, has prepared the following day - by - day suggestions, "heard often but seldom given a second thought." She says they will foster good safety habits all week and through the year:

Sunday — Take time to care. Plan to avoid an overcrowded schedule. Make definite plans for safety measures.

Tuesday — Chemicals can kill. Always read the label, use as directed, store in original containers and in locked cabinets.

Wednesday — Prevent falls by repairing or discarding broken or unsafe ladders. Be sure stairways are adequately lighted and have proper handrails.

Thursday — Rural highway safety. Remove trees, weeds and shrubs at farm entrances to improve visibility. Follow the highway rules of care, caution and courtesy.

Friday — Farm machinery. Make certain safety devices and guards are in place. Always stop machinery before unclogging or adjusting.

Saturday — Recreation safety. Take safety seriously around bodies of water and "unloaded" guns. Include safety on vacation plans.

Skelton's Wife Satisfactory From Gun Wound In Chest

Georgia Skelton, 44, was declared in satisfactory condition at Sunrise Hospital following treatment for a chest wound which was inflicted with a pistol early Tuesday morning.

The accident took place in the Skeltons' suite in the Sands Hotel as he was performing in the supper club below.

The shot was heard by the Skelton's daughter Valentina, 19, and a college student friend, Art Coleman, 19, who were in another part of the suite. Coleman entered the bedroom to find Mrs. Skelton stretched on the bed, bleeding at the chest.

"What happened? What did I do?" she was reported to have said.

Mrs. Skelton was rushed to the hospital where doctors determined the shot had penetrated no vital organs. After his performance, Skelton was told the news and he rushed tearfully to the hospital.

Skelton remained with his wife, whom he married in 1945 and later attended the wedding of Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow at the Sands Hotel. He listened on performing his usual show Tuesday night.

The comedian, 52, was in top form. He romped through his usual procession of gags, some old, some new, and performed his near-classic pantomimes — the old veteran at the parade, the child refusing to take castor oil, etc.

Only at the conclusion did Skelton reveal a trace of emotion. In his curtain speech, he made his traditional comments about not wishing to offend anyone and hoping that his buffoonery had helped his audience forget their troubles.

He hurried through the speech and dashed offstage in tears.

In an exclusive interview backstage, Skelton reported that his wife was in good spirits, but apparently had suffered a broken rib from the gunshot.

The Skeltons normally keep guns at their residences in case of burglary. The comedian explained Georgia and I had taken all our guns from the Palm Springs house to the Bel Air House, but she brought one little pistol here.

"The pistol had no ammunition and she wanted to get some. She said she felt much safer to have the gun loaded. So just last Saturday we went to a store and bought some bullets for it."

The gun was a 38-caliber pistol which Skelton said was on the bedside table. He theorized that his wife may have brushed against the gun while reaching for a dressing robe.

Skelton's engagement ends next Tuesday and he said he could fly his wife back to Los Angeles in a private jet.

The shot was heard by the Skelton's daughter Valentina, 19, and a college student friend, Art Coleman, 19, who were in another part of the suite. Coleman entered the bedroom to find Mrs. Skelton stretched on the bed, bleeding at the chest.

"What happened? What did I do?" she was reported to have said.

Mrs. Skelton was rushed to the hospital where doctors determined the shot had penetrated no vital organs. After his performance, Skelton was told the news and he rushed tearfully to the hospital.

Skelton remained with his wife, whom he married in 1945, and later attended the wedding of Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow at the Sands Hotel. He insisted on performing his usual show Tuesday night.

The comedian, 52, was in top form. He romped through his usual procession of gags, some old, some new, and performed his near-classic pantomimes — the old veteran at the parade, the child refusing to take castor oil, etc.

Only at the conclusion did Skelton reveal a trace of emotion. In his curtain speech, he made his traditional comments about not wishing to offend anyone and hoping that his buffoonery had helped his audience forget their troubles.

He hurried through the speech and dashed offstage in tears.

In an exclusive interview backstage, Skelton reported that his wife was in good spirits, but apparently had suffered a broken rib from the gunshot.

The Skeltons normally keep guns at their residences in case of burglary. The comedian explained: "Georgia and I had taken all our guns from the Palm Springs house to the Bel Air House, but she brought one little pistol here.

"The pistol had no ammunition and she wanted to get some. She said she felt much safer to have the gun loaded. So just last Saturday we went to a store and bought some bullets for it."

The gun was a 38-caliber pistol which Skelton said was on the bedside table. He interjected that his wife may have brushed against the gun while reaching for a dressing robe.

Skelton's engagement ends next Tuesday and he said he could fly his wife back to Los Angeles in a private jet.

Police Policy Questioned At Wellsville On 2 Issues

Howard Westlake of 1702 Commerce St. told Council that he and two other garage operators who have a 24-hour wrecker service are never called to tow away vehicles involved in accidents. The work always goes to the West End garage, he charged, declaring the owner is not in the garage business on a full - time basis since he also works at the Ohio State Liquor Store.

Westlake asked that each garage be given a month at a time in which they will be called. Council asked that Westlake contact Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare and have a meeting arranged with all parties concerned and the police to work out an agreement.

COUNCILMAN George Lawton also charged favoritism was being shown certain tavern operators, with some, according to him, being allowed to have live music in operation later than others.

Lawton cited the Crystal Lounge, as an example. This bar is allowed to have live music later than the 356 Bar, he said. He moved that the director be instructed to inform the police to treat all taverns and businesses in the same manner. Councilmen Glenn Mathess and Nunzio Lombardozzi opposed the motion. Mathess said this was telling the director how to do his job, which is not necessary in his opinion.

Howard Lucas of 10th St. said Council should provide more money for the operation of Springhill Cemetery and suggested a levy. Council said a one - mill levy is being proposed for the cemetery upkeep.

On request from residents of the neighborhood, the legislators set the speed limit on Buckeye Ave. between 10th and 12th Sts. at 20 miles an hour and directed signs be erected.

Council delayed action until the next meeting on the appointment of Mrs. Lillie Boggs of 323 Broadway to the Hammond Park Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Vera Valentine, who moved from the community. The commission recommended the appointment of Mrs. Boggs.

Second reading was given legislation appropriating funds for the recodification of city ordinances and legislation authorizing the solicitor to advertise for bids on the work. Both were opposed by Lawton.

The finance committee was asked to investigate a request for a $50-a-month increase for Ike Crawford, food inspector for the Health Department.

Mathess said city refuse crews complained that many residents are not placing their trash at the rear of their property for collection. The men say if they pass up the trash, the owners call City Hall and they are sent back, Mathess reported. He commented the men should not have to collect the trash if it is not located in the proper place.

MATHESS also reported he had checked the condition of two street graders being offered for sale to the city. There is a difference of $2,000 in the price and both are in good shape, he said. Lawton said the city has had one of the graders for six weeks and should make some compensation to the owner.

Mathess said "I don't feel we owe him anything. He is trying to sell the city and the other man also will put a machine in town on a trial basis."

Lombardozzi asked Council to consider making Aten Ave. from Commerce St. to Clark Ave. one way for traffic.

He said three requests have been received for street lights. A. B. Daniels of 13th St. was granted permission to cut the curb at his property.

Council again discussed a bill presented by Saxton's Garage for storage of a car ordered towed away by the police department. The charges against the owner were dismissed and the owner failed to claim the vehicle, which still is in the garage. Council was to meet with the solicitor and garage owner relative to the matter.

Councilman Jack Call and Wayne Rose, clerk, were absent. Lombardozzi served as acting clerk.

District Man Injured In Toronto Accident

A Hammondsville area man was hospitalized with injuries suffered in an auto accident Tuesday at 3:20 p. m. in Toronto.

Toronto police said the crash involved cars operated by Calvin William Householder of Hammondsville R. D. 1 and Mrs. Mary Martis of 202 N. River Ave., Toronto.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Route 7 and Main St. Mrs. Martis was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Gosney Defends Board Of Community College

LISBON — "The Columbiana County Community College Board of Trustees is a bi-partisan group made up of men from both political parties and all walks of life."

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman and college board chairman, so declared today in answering the County Board of Education's public suggestion for a new board of trustees "to eliminate political contention."

Gosney said the college board would like the help of the County Board of Education instead of the "slap in the face it has received in this public blast."

He said an examination of the makeup of the county school board shows "people active in the Republican party and one active in the Democratic party."

"We have on the county school board people who ran for public office as township trustees and the state Senate," Gosney said, "but we aren't asking them to resign because of politics or because they have had problems passing school levies in some of their districts."

"The college trustees did not and do not now question their motives as we feel all people should be interested in democracy and belong to one of the two political parties," he added.

Gosney called the county board's attention to the state Board of Regents — "not a Democrat on it." "What about this?" he asked.

He said the county board also will find it was the Board of Regents that said this county could be served by Mahoning County, and the Columbiana County college trustees fought this. Gosney said Gov. James Rhodes appointed each of the present regents and is responsible for them.

The chairman noted there were several political leaders on the Mahoning trustees and "this did not hurt their obtaining a charter."

Concerning county unity, Gosney said the college trustees have done everything possible to try and work with all groups.

"This was not possible as Salem and East Liverpool wanted to keep what they have and not join in a central community effort for higher education," he said. "If the county school board has any ideas how to overcome this obstacle we will be happy to try them."

Concern At Ravenna Brings $77 Million

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Sale of Dunhill International, Inc., here to Consolidated Laundries Corp., of New York, for nearly $77 million in cash, notes and stock was approved by Dunhill stockholders Tuesday.

Cyril R. Porthouse, Dunhill president, told the shareholders that Consolidated's stockholders meeting at the same time, also approved the acquisition.

Terms of the transaction call for Dunhill shareholders to receive for each common share $15 in cash, $4 principal amount of 6.5 per cent promissory notes of Consolidated and one-sixteenth of a share of Consolidated Common stock.

The average per capita income of farm families is only about two-thirds that of the non-farm population, Robert C. Liebenow, president of the Corn Industries Research Foundation, said in a recent speech.

Masons Hold Installation

LISBON — New Lisbon Chapter 92, Royal Arch Masons, had wives as guests Tuesday night during installation of officers in the Masonic Temple.

Three past high priests were in charge: Wayne Calhoun, installing officer; Henry Dawes, installing secretary, and Philip Carnes, installing marshal.

The new officers are: Jack Brooks, high priest; Walter Lipp, king; Harvey Cusick, scribe; Kenneth Rowland, captain of host; Carl Deffenbaugh, Royal Arch captain; William Stanley, Don Morris and Herbert Weaver, third, second and first veils respectively; Calhoun, principal sojourner; Walter Cope, treasurer; Clarence Ball, secretary, and Lynn Rodgers, guard.

Albert R. Webber, installed as treasurer in 1931, retired last night after 35 consecutive years in office. Ball has been in office 27 years.

A special service was conducted in memory of seven members who died the past year. The meeting was the last until Tuesday, Sept. 27, and the final meeting for pianist George Bortz, who has accepted a music professorship at Bridgewater College in Virginia.

There were 9,490 airports, in the United States at the beginning of this year.

Picnics Held By Groups In Lisbon Area

Will Concern Financial Affairs

Next Round Of Hearings Eyed Against Sen. Dodd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee indicated today its next round of hearings on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will deal with the Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., told a reporter he will announce the subject and the date for the hearings just as soon as he can. But he said he had no definite information at this time.

Klein spent the day in the witness chair. On a key issue, he insisted he hadn't pressured Dodd in going to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

"I don't know a single United States senator who can be pressured," said Klein, who testified all his letters, memos and telephone calls to Dodd were just the exercise of his "God-given right" of petition.

Klein, a Republican, said he also had asked Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other senators to speak to German government and industrial leaders in his behalf. Javits later told a reporter he had mentioned Klein in talks with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and former Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Javits said in both cases his discussions dealt with Klein's views on German reparations to Jewish victims of Nazi prosecution. "I thought Klein's position reflected credit on him," Javits said.

Dodd, who stayed away from Tuesday's hearing, previously had sworn the purpose of his six-day trip to Germany was to investigate the Soviet terror apparatus.

Klein said that when he learned Dodd was going, he encouraged him to make the trip and to counter "distortions" in the German press about a 1963 Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of foreign agents.

However, he testified that not a single one of his West German clients who had canceled their contracts after the 1963 investigation had been "salvaged" as a result of Dodd's trip.

"Would you say that Senator Dodd's trip was personally helpful to you?" asked the Ethics Committee's counsel, Benjamin R. Fern.

"I'd rather put it the other way," Klein replied. "It surely didn't do me any harm."

Klein said he had made campaign contributions to Dodd and let him make free use of his $700-a-month suite in the Essex House in New York when it was unoccupied. But he denied giving Dodd a Persian rug or any expensive gifts as charged by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

A series of columns by Pearson and Anderson led to the investigation. They not only charged Dodd with acting as "an errand boy" for Klein but with diverting to the senator's own use thousands of dollars in campaign funds raised at testimonial dinners.

Dodd has said he welcomed the investigation. He has filed a $2-million libel suit against Pearson and Anderson. In his earlier testimony to the committee, Dodd said he was anxious to help Klein because he felt his old friend was "the victim of an injustice" due to publicity resulting from the 1962 committee investigation.

During Tuesday's hearing, Fern and Stennis asked Klein what Dodd had said to him about his 1964 trip after his return from Germany. There was this exchange:

Fern: Did Sen. Dodd say anything about having put in a good word for you?

Klein: I really don't remember. I don't remember.

Fern: Did he mention at all that he had praised you in any way?

Klein: Well, he did say that he saw Chancellor Adenauer. He didn't even mention whether he mentioned me in a favorable way. I took it for granted.

Stennis: You mean to say now that when he got back you didn't even ask him whether he had mentioned you?

Klein: I really don't remember.

Stennis: Do you remember whether you had it on your mind?

Klein: I surely had it on my mind then and I have it on my mind now.

"I asked him did you speak to my friends and he said everybody understands that Fulbright matter now. I said that's wonderful."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which held the hearings three years ago on the role of foreign agents.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee indicated today its next round of hearings on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will deal with the Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., told a reporter he will announce the subject and the date for the hearings just as soon as he can. But he said he had no definite information at this time.

Klein spent the day in the witness chair. On a key issue, he insisted he hadn't pressured Dodd in going to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

"I don't know a single United States senator who can be pressured," said Klein, who testified all his letters, memos and telephone calls to Dodd were just the exercise of his "God-given right" of petition.

Klein, a Republican, said he also had asked Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other senators to speak to German government and industrial leaders in his behalf. Javits later told a reporter he had mentioned Klein in talks with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and former Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Javits said in both cases his discussions dealt with Klein's views on German reparations to Jewish victims of Nazi prosecution. "I thought Klein's position reflected credit on him," Javits said.

Dodd, who stayed away from Tuesday's hearing, previously had sworn the purpose of his six-day trip to Germany was to investigate the Soviet terror apparatus.

Klein said that when he learned Dodd was going, he encouraged him to make the trip and to counter "distortions" in the German press about a 1963 Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of foreign agents.

However, he testified that not a single one of his West German clients who had canceled their contracts after the 1963 investigation had been "salvaged" as a result of Dodd's trip.

"Would you say that Senator Dodd's trip was personally helpful to you?" asked the Ethics Committee's counsel, Benjamin R. Fern.

"I'd rather put it the other way," Klein replied. "It surely didn't do me any harm."

Klein said he had made campaign contributions to Dodd and let him make free use of his $700-a-month suite in the Essex House in New York when it was unoccupied. But he denied giving Dodd a Persian rug or any expensive gifts as charged by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

A series of columns by Pearson and Anderson led to the investigation. They not only charged Dodd with acting as "an errand boy" for Klein but with diverting to the senator's own use thousands of dollars in campaign funds raised at testimonial dinners.

Dodd has said he welcomed the investigation. He has filed a $2-million libel suit against Pearson and Anderson. In his earlier testimony to the committee, Dodd said he was anxious to help Klein because he felt his old friend was "the victim of an injustice" due to publicity resulting from the 1962 committee investigation.

During Tuesday's hearing, Fern and Stennis asked Klein what Dodd had said to him about his 1964 trip after his return from Germany. There was this exchange:

Fern: Did Sen. Dodd say anything about having put in a good word for you?

Klein: I really don't remember. I don't remember.

Fern: Did he mention at all that he had praised you in any way?

Klein: Well, he did say that he saw Chancellor Adenauer. He didn't even mention whether he mentioned me in a favorable way. I took it for granted.

Stennis: You mean to say now that when he got back you didn't even ask him whether he had mentioned you?

Klein: I really don't remember.

Stennis: Do you remember whether you had it on your mind?

Klein: I surely had it on my mind then and I have it on my mind now.

"I asked him did you speak to my friends and he said everybody understands that Fulbright matter now. I said that's wonderful."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which held the hearings three years ago on the role of foreign agents.

Birds Stretch Lead To 9½ Games

Leaders Collect 19 Hits

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There isn't much the American League can do about Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary, Russ Snyder and the rest of Baltimore's slugging Orioles. But at least Eddie Watt is out of the way.

Watt admitted he wasn't ready to join the Orioles' slugging society quite yet Tuesday even though he walloped his first major league home run while pitching Baltimore to a 13-3 rout over Detroit.

"I hit one a year," Watt said after the game. "The pitch was in the one spot where I could hit it out."

Watt's first major league homer was the fourth of the night for the Orioles, who pounded four Detroit pitchers for 19 hits. Those conventional sluggers, Frank Robinson and Blefary, whacked the first three with Robinson's 24th and 25th driving in five runs.

Watt, a rookie reliever, went the distance in his second start of the season, scattering eight hits. He struck out seven and raised his record to 7-1.

Both Brooks and Frank Robinson ripped three hits apiece and Snyder, the American Leagues' leading hitter, stroked two hits and raised his average to .336.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday, Minnesota swept a doubleheader 5-4 and 4-0 from Washington and Chicago edged Cleveland 5-4. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed by rain.

In the National League, Cincinnati went 18 innings before nipping Chicago 3-2 in the longest game played this year. Houston downed Philadelphia 8-2 and St. Louis topped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

The other NL clubs were not scheduled.

Robinson's first home run of the night was a three-run shot in the first inning as the Orioles hopped on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. He hammered No. 25 in the fourth inning after Watt had singled.

Both Robinsons left the game in the seventh after collecting their third hits of the game. Until he was replaced by a pinch runner, Brooks had played every inning this season.

Perry retired 17 of the last 18 batters he faced and struck out five.

Cesar Tovar, who raced home with the winning run on Harmon Killebrew's eighth-inning single in the first game, also drove in two runs in the nightcap.

Pete Richert had a 4-2 lead on a two-hitter through six innings but had to leave the game when his arm stiffened. It was Richert's first appearance since the All-Star Game. After that game, Washington Manager Gil Hodges criticized Minnesota's Sam Mele for overworking Richert in the bullpen.

Cleveland continued its slugging surge with homers by Fred Whitfield and Chuck Hinton. Jerry Adair had a two-run homer for the White Sox, who tied the score in the seventh when Tom McCraw walked with the bases loaded.

Little Leaguers Open Tournament Tonight

East Liverpool's two Little League All-Star teams will open District tournament play today. The East Liverpool Americans will meet Wellsville at Thompson Park at 6 p. m. while the Nationals play at Dennison.

Columbiana Man 1 Of 14 Trainers In Suspensions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen trainers whose horses won races in June won't have chances to win again until next month because of Ohio Racing Commission suspensions handed down Tuesday.

The trainers were suspended by track judges in June, when post-race tests of 13 winning horses at three Ohio tracks showed traces of drugs in the horses' systems. All the trainers denied any knowledge of druggings, but they are held accountable under Ohio law.

The commission suspensions were all for 60 days, retroactive to the date the trainers were set down by judges. Nine of the drugging cases were from Northfield Park and one from Thistledowns near Cleveland.

Colts Win In Playoff

Nicklaus Gunning For ¾ Slam In PGA At Firestone

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The PGA's glden anniversary tournament begins Thursday with the game's top stars harboring various reasons for wanting to win the final major championship of 1966.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Dave Marr are among those who have an ax to grind in the 72-hole battle across the vast field of the Firestone Country Club which measures 7,180 yards and carries a challenging par of 35-35—70.

Nicklaus is gunning for a three-quarter slam. If he tacks the PGA to his Master's and British Open victories, he'll become the first player to win three major titles in one year since Ben Hogan won the Masters, the British, the U.S. Open and then didn't compete in the 1953 PGA.

Player, the 1965 golfer of the year, has virtually done nothing this year in the way of winning. The diminutive South African was one of the first pros to appear at Firestone and has been practicing diligently since last Friday in an effort to shape up his game.

Casper has been the steadiest golfer on tour this year, a "Buffalo Bill" could all but wrap up 1966 honors by stringing the PGA title to his recent U.S. Open and Western Open triumphs.

Sanders usually is in the running, but the quick-witted sport with the flashy outfits never has won a major championship, although he came close in the British Open when he finished two strokes behind Nicklaus.

However, Doug's record at Firestone is not an enviable one. He finished in a tie for third in the 1960 PGA and in five American classics his best showing was a tie for ninth last year.

Marr's story has become a sad one, in that he has been completely overlooked despite the fact he is defending the title he won at Ligonier last year.

Marr takes his role of the forgotten man philosophically, saying, "The guy who wins only three of 90 tournaments should be forgotten." Dave hasn't won a thing since the 1965 PGA, but he has been among the top 10 in seven tournaments this year and remains a title threat.

The tournament winds up Sunday. In case of a tie, there will be an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Ohioan Eliminated

Farrell Turns Hitter To Top Phils, 8-2

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Assciated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies knew before the game that the outfield grass in the Astrodome had been changed, but it's doubtful if they were ready for the change in Houston pitcher Dick Farrell.

Farrell scattered eight hits Tuesday night as the Astros climbed to one game above the .500 mark by beating the fourth-place Phillies 8-2.

But the change in Farrell didn't occur on the mound — where he has always been respected — but at bat — where he never has been feared.

The veteran right-hander belted two singles and his first homer since 1962 in four trips to the plate. The homer came with two men on in the sixth and gave the Astros a 7-2 lead.

The three hits gave him four in 32 at bats for a .125 average, and the victory was his fourth in 10 decisions.

The game was the first played on a surface which consisted of artificial grass in the outfield as well as the infield. The nylon surface has been in use in the Astrodome's infield all season.

"The ball bounces like a rubber ball," he said. "You can't hold your footing. It's hard to stop when you charge the ball. They should have left it like it was."

In the only other National League games, Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 18 innings, the longest game in the majors this year, and St. Louis nipped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

Chicago beat Cleveland 5-4, Minnesota took Washington 5-4 and 4-0, and Baltimore trounced Detroit 13-3 in the American League. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed because of rain.

Don Pavletich's homer with two out in the 18th won it for Cincinnati. Until then, the two teams had played eight straight scoreless innings.

The Cubs, who left 18 men on base, took a 1-0 lead in the seventh, and the Reds came back to tie it in the eighth. Then after the Cubs went ahead 2-1 in the eighth, the Reds again tied it when Gordy Coleman doubled home Pete Rose with two out in the ninth.

Atlanta built up a 7-0 lead at St. Louis, but the Cardinals tied it with seven runs in the sixth. Each got a pair in the seventh, and that ended the scoring until Charlie Smith singled home pinch runner Bob Tolan to win it in the 12th.

Joe Torre hit a grand-slam homer for the Braves in the first and belted a solo shot, his 24th, in the seventh. Smith also hit a two-run homer for the winners.

Chambers Hurls No-Hitter In Colt Loop For Florists

Chambers struck out five batters and gave up four walks but not one Realtor batter collected a hit.

Riverview scored once in the second inning, twice in the fourth and added four more runs in the seventh.

Jerry Canne swung the heavy bat for Riverview collecting three hits and driving in four runs. Mike Piatt was checked with the loss.

Fists Flying Again For Billy Martin

WASHINGTON — Billy Martin, Minnesota coach, put the gloves on again Monday night when he became engaged in a fist fight with Twins' traveling secretary Howie Fox in a Washington Hotel lobby.

No reason was given for the fight outside of the fact the two had had words during their flight to Washington. Some blood was drawn but Minnesota players stepped in to break up the fight.

Birds Stretch Lead To 9½ Games

Leaders Collect 19 Hits

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There isn't much the American League can do about Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary, Russ Snyder and the rest of Baltimore's slugging Orioles. But at least Eddie Watt is out of the way.

Watt admitted he wasn't ready to join the Orioles' slugging society quite yet Tuesday even though he walloped his first major league home run while pitching Baltimore to a 13-3 rout over Detroit.

"I hit one a year," Watt said after the game. "The pitch was in the one spot where I could hit it out."

Watt's first major league homer was the fourth of the night for the Orioles, who pounded four Detroit pitchers for 19 hits. Those conventional sluggers, Frank Robinson and Blefary, whacked the first three with Robinson's 24th and 25th driving in five runs.

Watt, a rookie reliever, went the distance in his second start of the season, scattering eight hits. He struck out seven and raised his record to 7-1.

Both Brooks and Frank Robinson ripped three hits apiece and Snyder, the American Leagues' leading hitter, stroked two hits and raised his average to .336.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday, Minnesota swept a doubleheader 5-4 and 4-0 from Washington and Chicago edged Cleveland 5-4, Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed by rain.

In the National League, Cincinnati went 18 innings before nipping Chicago 3-2 in the longest game played this year. Houston downed Philadelphia 8-2 and St. Louis topped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

The other NL clubs were not scheduled.

Robinson's first home run of the night was a three-run shot in the first inning as the Orioles hopped on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. He hammered No. 25 in the fourth inning after Watt had singled.

Both Robinsons left the game in the seventh after collecting their third hits of the game. Until he was replaced by a pinch runner, Brooks had played every inning this season.

Perry retired 17 of the last 18 batters he faced and struck out five.

Cesar Tovar, who raced home with the winning run on Harmon Killebrew's eighth-inning single in the first game, also drove in two runs in the nightcap.

Pete Richert had a 4-2 lead on a two-hitter through six innings but had to leave the game when his arm stiffened. It was Richert's first appearance since the All-Star Game. After that game, Washington Manager Gil Hodges criticized Minnesota's Sam Mele for overworking Richert in the bullpen.

Cleveland continued its slugging surge with homers by Fred Whitfield and Chuck Hinton. Jerry Adair had a two-run homer for the White Sox, who tied the score in the seventh when Tom McCraw walked with the bases loaded.

Little Leaguers Open Tournament Tonight

East Liverpool's two Little League All-Star teams will open District tournament play today. The East Liverpool Americans will meet Wellsville at Thompson Park at 6 p. m. while the Nationals play at Dennison.

Columbiana Man 1 Of 14 Trainers In Suspensions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen trainers whose horses won races in June won't have chances to win again until next month because of Ohio Racing Commission suspensions handed down Tuesday.

The trainers were suspended by track judges in June, when post-race tests of 13 winning horses at three Ohio tracks showed traces of drugs in the horses' systems. All the trainers denied any knowledge of druggings, but they are held accountable under Ohio law.

The commission suspensions were all for 60 days, retroactive to the date the trainers were set down by judges. Nine of the drugging cases were from Northfield Park and one from Thistledowns near Cleveland.

Colts Win In Playoff

Nicklaus Gunning For ¾ Slam In PGA At Firestone

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The PGA's glden anniversary tournament begins Thursday with the game's top stars harboring various reasons for wanting to win the final major championship of 1966.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Dave Marr are among those who have an ax to grind in the 72-hole battle across the vast field of the Firestone Country Club which measures 7,180 yards and carries a challenging par of 35-35—70.

Nicklaus is gunning for a three-quarter slam. If he tacks the PGA to his Master's and British Open victories, he'll become the first player to win three major titles in one year since Ben Hogan won the Masters, the British, the U.S. Open and then didn't compete in the 1953 PGA.

Player, the 1965 golfer of the year, has virtually done nothing this year in the way of winning. The diminutive South African was one of the first pros to appear at Firestone and has been practicing diligently since last Friday in an effort to shape up his game.

Casper has been the steadiest golfer on tour this year, a "Buffalo Bill" could all but wrap up 1966 honors by stringing the PGA title to his recent U.S. Open and Western Open triumphs.

Sanders usually is in the running, but the quick-witted sport with the flashy outfits never has won a major championship, although he came close in the British Open when he finished two strokes behind Nicklaus.

However, Doug's record at Firestone is not an enviable one. He finished in a tie for third in the 1960 PGA and in five American classics his best showing was a tie for ninth last year.

Marr's story has become a sad one, in that he has been completely overlooked despite the fact he is defending the title he won at Ligonier last year.

Marr takes his role of the forgotten man philosophically, saying, "The guy who wins only three of 90 tournaments should be forgotten." Dave hasn't won a thing since the 1965 PGA, but he has been among the top 10 in seven tournaments this year and remains a title threat.

The tournament winds up Sunday. In case of a tie, there will be an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Farrell Turns Hitter To Top Phils, 8-2

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Assciated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies knew before the game that the outfield grass in the Astrodome had been changed, but it's doubtful if they were ready for the change in Houston pitcher Dick Farrell.

Farrell scattered eight hits Tuesday night as the Astros climbed to one game above the .500 mark by beating the fourth-place Phillies 8-2.

But the change in Farrell didn't occur on the mound — where he has always been respected — but at bat — where he never has been feared.

The veteran right-hander belted two singles and his first homer since 1962 in four trips to the plate. The homer came with two men on in the sixth and gave the Astros a 7-2 lead.

The three hits gave him four in 32 at bats for a .125 average, and the victory was his fourth in 10 decisions.

The game was the first played on a surface which consisted of artificial grass in the outfield as well as the infield. The nylon surface has been in use in the Astrodome's infield all season.

"The ball bounces like a rubber ball," he said. "You can't hold your footing. It's hard to stop when you charge the ball. They should have left it like it was."

In the only other National League games, Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 18 innings, the longest game in the majors this year, and St. Louis nipped Atlanta 10-9 in 12 innings.

Chicago beat Cleveland 5-4, Minnesota took Washington 5-4 and 4-0, and Baltimore trounced Detroit 13-3 in the American League. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed because of rain.

Don Pavletich's homer with two out in the 18th won it for Cincinnati. Until then, the two teams had played eight straight scoreless innings.

The Cubs, who left 18 men on base, took a 1-0 lead in the seventh, and the Reds came back to tie it in the eighth. Then after the Cubs went ahead 2-1 in the eighth, the Reds again tied it when Gordy Coleman doubled home Pete Rose with two out in the ninth.

Atlanta built up a 7-0 lead at St. Louis, but the Cardinals tied it with seven runs in the sixth. Each got a pair in the seventh, and that ended the scoring until Charlie Smith singled home pinch runner Bob Tolan to win it in the 12th.

Joe Torre hit a grand-slam homer for the Braves in the first and belted a solo shot, his 24th, in the seventh. Smith also hit a two-run homer for the winners.

Chambers Hurls No-Hitter In Colt Loop For Florists

Chambers struck out five batters and gave up four walks but not one Realtor batter collected a hit.

Riverview scored once in the second inning, twice in the fourth and added four more runs in the seventh.

Jerry Canne swung the heavy bat for Riverview collecting three hits and driving in four runs. Mike Piatt was checked with the loss.

Chop 4 Weeks Off Schedule

Orioles' Official Suggests Season Should Be Shortened To 144 Games

BALTIMORE (AP) — An executive of the Baltimore Orioles, risking sharp rebuttal from his counterparts on other American League teams, suggested today the baseball season should be shortened.

"This is something I have felt for a long time," said Harry Dalton, an Oriole vice president and the club's director of player personnel. "The fans feel the season is too long, and the players know it's too long."

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's All-Star third baseman, has complained during the past week about the long season, including the practice of scheduled midseason exhibitions and night games on getaway days while moving from one city to another.

"I'm completely behind Robinson's statements," Dalton said. "But Brooks was only sniping at the side effects of the basic problem.

"The basic problem is that the schedule is much too long. I think the American League schedule is a bad schedule."

"That statement should make me real popular with a lot of owners and executives around the league," Dalton added.

The Oriole executive proposed cutting the season from 162 to 144 games, and chopping about four weeks off the schedule.

"It is true that a season opening on April 20 and closing on Sept. 20, with an increased number of single-game dates, would slightly reduce the number of open dates," Dalton said. "But with the span of the season reduced by nearly one month, the necessity and demand for open dates would decrease.

'Everybody is trying to make money," he said. "But how much is enough money? I think to try to extract the last bloody penny is wrong."

Dalton said a more sensible schedule would give players a chance to lengthen their careers and improve the quality of baseball.

"That statement should make me real popular with a lot of owners and executives around the league," Dalton added.

The Oriole executive proposed cutting the season from 162 to 144 games, and chopping about four weeks off the schedule.

"It is true that a season opening on April 20 and closing on Sept. 20, with an increased number of single-game dates, would slightly reduce the number of open dates," Dalton said. "But with the span of the season reduced by nearly one month, the necessity and demand for open dates would decrease.

"Everybody is trying to make money," he said. "But how much is enough money? I think to try to extract the last bloody penny is wrong."

Dalton said a more sensible schedule would give players a chance to lengthen their careers and improve the quality of baseball.

Colavito Claims Gentile Can Help

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians hope Jim Gentile, acquired Tuesday by Tribe President Gabe Paul, will give a boost to the club in the second-half drive.

"Ooh, can he swing a bat," said Rock Colavito, who was with Gentile at Kansas City in 1964. "He never gets cheated when he's up there, and when Gentile's hot he can carry the whole club."

John O'Donoghue, another former teammate of Gentile's, agreed.

"You bet he'll help, and don't worry about his reputation. Jim's his own worst enemy, but now he knows it. He used to get down on himself when things were going bad, but Rocky was — and should be again — a great influence. He can talk Gentile out of his troubles."

The temperamental first-baseman was acquired in a trade from Oklahoma City. The Indians gave Oklahoma Tony Curry and an estimated $17,200 cash. Gentile started the season with the Houston Astros of the National League but was sent to the Pacific Coast League club after an alleged bat throwing incident.

The Indians dropped a 5-4 decision to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night. Two home runs in the first inning gave starter Sonny Siebert a 3-0 lead, but the Indians couldn't hold it.

The White Sox came back with two runs in the second, Jerry Adair hitting a home run after J. C. Martin walked.

The Indians added another run in the second when Max Alvis opened with a single, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Del Crandall's single.

Siebert was replaced by Jack Kralick in the third after a single by Tommy Agee, a wild pitch and a single by Floyd Robinson scored a third Chicago run.

O'Donoghue took over from Kralick with the bases loaded in the seventh, and walked in the tying run.

Don Buford drew a base on balls in the ninth, although the Indians thought Buford should have been called out on strikes. Manager Birdie Tebbett protested vigorously and was thrown out of the game.

Even Buford, who took a half swing, apparently thought he had struck out and took a step toward the bench before umpire Jim Odom called it ball two. Buford went to third on Agee's single and scored the winning run on Smokey Burgess' sacrifice fly.

Woodbine Ends Litten's Chances In Pony League

Woodbine knocked Litten's out of the second half title in the Pony League and assured George Bright's of the crown with a 10-2 victory Tuesday at Dopler Field.

While Woodbine was handling Litten's, Sevy's scored a 6-4 victory over Burbick's.

First baseman Jim Lynch collected two hits and drove in four runs to supply the scoring punch for Woodbine while Kinsey had three hits and Staley homered and singled.

Mike Smith was the winning hurler and scattered five hits over the Litten lineup including two each by Eckles and Parsons.

A two-run sixth inning proved to be the winning margin for Sevy's in its conquest of Burbick's. Cornell paced the winners with a triple and single while Murray homered and drove in two runs for Burbick's. D. Smith picked up the victory with Murray the loser.

Cardinal President Charles (Stormy) Bidwill said Lucas had been under orders to trim down to a playing weight of 280 pounds by Thursday.

Bidwill said Lucas' reported $300,000 salary-plus-bonus, no-cut contract had been voided.

Bidwill said the massive tackle had been paid very little money, at Lucas' request, for tax reasons. "Now the contract is void."

"We feel that he has quit and if he is claimed by another club, he will go for the $100 waiver price," Bidwill said.

Colavito Claims Gentile Can Help

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians hope Jim Gentile, acquired Tuesday by Tribe President Gabe Paul, will give a boost to the club in the second-half drive.

"Ooh, can he swing a bat," said Rock Colavito, who was with Gentile at Kansas City in 1964. "He never gets cheated when he's up there, and when Gentile's hot he can carry the whole club."

John O'Donoghue, another former teammate of Gentile's, agreed.

"You bet he'll help, and don't worry about his reputation. Jim's his own worst enemy, but now he knows it. He used to get down on himself when things were going bad, but Rocky was — and should be again — a great influence. He can talk Gentile out of his troubles."

The temperamental first-baseman was acquired in a trade from Oklahoma City. The Indians gave Oklahoma Tony Curry and an estimated $17,200 cash. Gentile started the season with the Houston Astros of the National League but was sent to the Pacific Coast League club after an alleged bat throwing incident.

The Indians dropped a 5-4 decision to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night. Two home runs in the first inning gave starter Sonny Siebert a 3-0 lead, but the Indians couldn't hold it.

The White Sox came back with two runs in the second. Jerry Adair hitting a home run after J. C. Martin walked.

The Indians added another run in the second when Max Alvis opened with a single, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Del Crandall's single.

Siebert was replaced by Jack Kralick in the third after a single by Tommy Agee, a wild pitch and a single by Floyd Robinson scored a third Chicago run.

O'Donoghue took over from Kralick with the bases loaded in the seventh, and walked in the tying run.

Don Buford drew a base on balls in the ninth, although the Indians thought Buford should have been called out on strikes. Manager Birdie Tebbett protested vigorously and was thrown out of the game.

Even Buford, who took a half swing, apparently thought he had struck out and took a step toward the bench before umpire Jim Odom called it ball two. Buford went to third on Agee's single and scored the winning run on Smokey Burgess' sacrifice fly.

Cornerstone Laid

WROCLAW, Poland (AP) — A marble cornerstone was laid here Tuesday for a memorial statue of Pope John XXIII with the blessing of Poland's Communist government. Only 1,400 persons turned out in contrast to the many thousands that usually attend events sponsored by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Woodbine Ends Litten's Chances In Pony League

Woodbine knocked Litten's out of the second half title in the Pony League and assured George Bright's of the crown with a 10-2 victory Tuesday at Dopler Field.

While Woodbine was handling Litten's, Sevy's scored a 6-4 victory over Burbick's.

First baseman Jim Lynch collected two hits and drove in four runs to supply the scoring punch for Woodbine while Kinsey had three hits and Staley homered and singled.

Mike Smith was the winning hurler and scattered five hits over the Litten lineup including two each by Eckles and Parsons.

A two-run sixth inning proved to be the winning margin for Sevy's in its conquest of Burbick's. Cornell paced the winners with a triple and single while Murray homered and drove in two runs for Burbick's. D. Smith picked up the victory with Murray the loser.

Cardinal President Charles (Stormy) Bidwill said Lucas had been under orders to trim down to a playing weight of 280 pounds by Thursday.

The burly lineman left camp after breakfast, but Bidwill did not learn he had lost his high-priced player until Norman McIntyre, Lucas' attorney, phoned later from Cleveland.

Bidwill said Lucas' reported $300,000 salary-plus-bonus, no-cut contract had been voided.

Bidwill said the massive tackle had been paid very little money, at Lucas' request, for tax reasons. "Now the contract is void."

"We feel that he has quit and if he is claimed by another club, he will go for the $100 waiver price," Bidwill said.

Phils, Astros Play First Game On Artificial Grass

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros and the Philadelphia Phillies played the first baseball game in history on a complete playing field of artificial grass and the outfielders generally agreed there was not much difference than under regular playing conditions.

"The ball bounces like a rubber ball," said Gonzalez. "You can't hold your footing. It's hard to stop when you charge the ball. They should have left it like it was."

Actually only the man-made grass on the outfield was new. The infield has had the nylon surface all season.

Other outfielders didn't agree with Gonzalez completely.

Cookie Rojas, Philadelphia right fielder, said the bounce of the ball was "pretty true." He said the ball seems to "keep on bouncing" and never dies.

"I believe you could toss a ball underhanded at second base and it would roll to the fence," he said.

Philadelphia center fielder Johnny Callison said the outfield surface "was better than I thought . . . not bad at all."

Lee Maye said he had no problems.

"It can't be any worse than the old field which was so hard," Maye said.

Jimmy Wynn said the bounce of the ball has a slight "cut to the right" but that the players would adjust to it.

Wynn also said at one time he had trouble with his footing when going back.

Rusty Staub said he had no problems and expected none.

"It's just like any other new field," he said. "You will have to get used to it."

The man-made grass was installed in the outfield last Friday. The infield was covered with the surface, called Astroturf, last March and was first used during an exhibition series between the Astros and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

At $2 a square foot, the 90,000 square feet of the outfield and the 30,000 square feet of the infield cost $240,000.

Man Injured Beneath Auto, Newell Woman Hurt In Fall

A Gardendale man caught beneath a car which slipped from a jack and a Newell woman injured in a fall were admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where 10 other area residents were treated after separate mishaps ysterday.

Robert L. Coy, 22, of Canton St. was in "fairly good" condition today with a laceration of the left cheek and bruises of the forehead received when he was caught under the car at his home late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Aleta Phillips of 203 Grant St., Newell, was in "good" condition with lacerations of the lower leg received in a fall on gravel in front of her home.

Others treated yesterday were Mrs. Marian Halstead of Dakota Ave., a laceration of the thumb on a table saw; James Miller, son of Walter Miller of Wellsville R.D., a cut on the scalp when he struck a rock while diving into a creek.

Andrew Eibling, 2, son of Steve Eibling of Crestview Dr., a puncture wound of the scalp against a store counter; Scott Reed, son of Richard Reed of 1737 Holliday St., a cut on the back of the head in a fall.

Robert Bebout, son of Robert Bebout of 3rd St. Ext., a wound of the foot in which a piece of wood became imbedded; Georgianna Newland, daughter of Thomas Newland of 1945 Dresden Ave., a cut on the right arm on a link of a swing.

Charles R. Elliott of Carroll Rd., an employe of the Globe Brick Co., a cut on the leg and an ankle injury in a fall at work; Mrs. Virginia Hostutler of 1793 Chester Ave., Wellsville, an injury of the right arm against a bucket in a fall down basement steps.

Wilkinson Due To File 21 More Tax Charges

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today he will file 21 more affidavits this afternoon in Municipal Court charging individuals and business houses with violation of the city income tax ordinance by failure to file returns.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will set hearing dates after the charges are filed. Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor then will serve a summons on each defendant. The action will be the latest in a series of charges filed by the commissioner in an effort to clean up a backlog of unpaid tax bills.

Meanwhile, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff issued a bench warrant today for David Seevers of 1404 Trentvale St., who failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on a charge of failure to file a final return on 1965 earnings and failure to furnish an estimate on 1966 income.

Upset Scored In Women's Amateur Play

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Bobby Jo Gabrielson, 19, daughter of a veteran University of Georgia swimming coach, was poised to make quite a splash today in the 66th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Five-foot-two with eyes of blue, Bobby Jo started ripples Tuesday when she scored a first-round 2-1 upset of Curtis Cupper Jean Ashley, last year's U.S. Amateur champion.

Medalist Barbara Fay Boddie, 26, of Shreveport, La., favored to capture her third successive Western Amateur title, met formidable Rhonda Glenn, Palm Beach, Fla., who was one under par for 13 holes in an easy opening triumph Tuesday.

The daughter of Bump Gabrielson, recently retired after 19 years as Georgia swim coach, Bobby Jo caught golf attention a month ago when she reached the finals of the National Collegiate Tournament, losing 2 and 1 to Michigan State's Joyce Kazmierski in the title match.

Pittsburgh Man Held In Neighbor's Death

Police said the pair quarreled Tuesday night and Walker got a .22-caliber rifle and shot Ray in the chest. Another shot struck walker's step-daughter, Juanita Walker, 10. She was hospitalized and was reported in good condition.

Legion Post Gets Report On Rally

Further plans were made for resumption of the bowling league in the fall. The next meeting will be Monday night.

More than 4,500 elementary schools are teaching courses in basic economics to about 1.5 million students, the Joint Council on Economic Education reports.

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today he will file 21 more affidavits this afternoon in Municipal Court charging individuals and business houses with violation of the city income tax ordinance by failure to file returns.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will set hearing dates after the charges are filed. Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor then will serve a summons on each defendant. The action will be the latest in a series of charges filed by the commissioner in an effort to clean up a backlog of unpaid tax bills.

Meanwhile, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff issued a bench warrant today for David Seevers of 1404 Trentvale St., who failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on a charge of failure to file a final return on 1965 earnings and failure to furnish an estimate on 1966 income.

Upset Scored In Women's Amateur Play

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Bobby Jo Gabrielson, 19, daughter of a veteran University of Georgia swimming coach, was poised to make quite a splash today in the 66th Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Five-foot-two with eyes of blue, Bobby Jo started ripples Tuesday when she scored a first-round 2-1 upset of Curtis Cupper Jean Ashley, last year's U.S. Amateur champion.

Medalist Barbara Fay Boddie, 26, of Shreveport, La., favored to capture her third successive Western Amateur title, met formidable Rhonda Glenn, Palm Beach, Fla., who was one under par for 13 holes in an easy opening triumph Tuesday.

The daughter of Bump Gabrielson, recently retired after 19 years as Georgia swim coach, Bobby Jo caught golf attention a month ago when she reached the finals of the National Collegiate Tournament, losing 2 and 1 to Michigan State's Joyce Kazmierski in the title match.

Pittsburgh Man Held In Neighbor's Death

Police said the pair quarreled Tuesday night and Walker got a .22-caliber rifle and shot Ray in the chest. Another shot struck walker's step-daughter, Juanita Walker, 10. She was hospitalized and was reported in good condition.

Legion Post Gets Report On Rally

More than 4,500 elementary schools are teaching courses in basic economics to about 1.5 million students, the Joint Council on Economic Education reports.

Officers Jail Engine Crew At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A Pennsylvania Railroad Co. conductor and engineer were jailed for 45 minutes and a motorist arrested Tuesday night by police in a crackdown on blocking track crossings and driving past down crossing gates.

Dan Horhe, 44, conductor of a switcher train, and Leo Brolley, 63, engineer, both of Alliance, were taken to jail by police, charged with blocking a crossing for an excessive period of time.

Police Chief Wallace Dilworth said the shifter train caused the automatic gates at the N. Market St. crossing to be down about 20 minutes and the conductor failed to send a flag man to the crossing to permit traffic to move while the locomotive was moving cars at the East Palestine Lumber Co.

Following a series of crossing incidents last month, Dilworth had said officers would arrest violators of the state regulation on blocking crossings and a city law prohibiting drivers from crossing the tracks while the short-length gates are down.

Officials from the Youngstown office of the railroad bailed out the two crewman, who are scheduled for a hearing Friday night before Mayor Robert Harding. Parker is also due a hearing Friday night.

Meeting Slated On County Home Fire Protection

LISBON — County Commissioner James Boyd is scheduled to meet Friday with representatives of the Ohio fire marshal's office concerning needed improvements in the fire protection system at the County Home.

Boyd said preliminary investigation by the fire marshal's representatives indicate work needed on the water lines for fire hoses in the older section of the home along with electrical work on wiring for the alarm system.

Boyd said he will meet Friday morning with two representatives of the office and, if the work is deemed of an emergency nature, will employ a plumber and electrician to start repairs Monday.

Woman Driver Cited After Minor Mishap

A woman driver was cited after a minor traffic mishap Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. in W. Drury Ln. about 30 feet east of East Alley, police reported.

Mrs. Louise Gronka, 31, of 238½ W. 5th St. was charged with driving without an operator's permit after her 1958 sedan bumped a parked 1966 sedan owned by the Hilbert Agency of 514 Washington St., officers said. The mishap scraped the bumper of the Gronka car and damaged the right front door and rear panel of the agency's auto, police said.

The woman told Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins she was maneuvering into a parking space when she bumped the other auto. She was given a suspended fine of $25 and costs when she pleaded guilty to the traffic charge today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy is reported recovering from a mild heart attack suffered Sunday at his Hyannis Port home.

Dr. Robert D. Watts, doctor to the patriarch of the Kennedy clan, visited the former ambassador Tuesday and said he was much improved.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jayne Mansfild has filed suit for divorce from her third husband, charging mental cruelty.

Miss Mansfield, 32, filed the suit Tuesday in Superior Court in Santa Monica, Calif., against stage director Thomas Vitale Ottaviano, 30. The couple, married in September 1964, has one child.

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Lewis' new $350,000 yacht is a casualty of the rocky Pacific Coast of California's Monterey County.

Lewis, 40, and four companions escaped injury Tuesday when a leak sent sea water pouring into the 65-foot yacht "Pussycat," en route from San Francisco at San Diego.

The nation's coastal waters provide about 5 billion pounds of fish per year, the Department of Interior reports. The waters have a potential of 28 billion pounds annually if properly developed.

Two Are Given Fines In Hancock Hearings

NEW CUMBERLAND—Michael Thornberry, 16, of Newell was fined $20 and costs for hazardous driving and $20 and costs for a noisy muffler by Judge John D. Herron in City Police Court here Tuesday. He was cited by Chief Jake Baxter.

George P. Summers, 53, of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs for speeding after being cited by Donald Dunlevy, constable.

40 Pounds Off Brings Better Health

If you need to lose weight but dread going on a diet, see what a change of good habits will do for you. A Floridian writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"On Father's Day, 1965, I decided be the best present I could give my husband that losing weight would To make it 'for keeps' I resolved to change my food habits.

"I weighed 194 pounds. Now, a year later, I weigh 154 pounds. My doctor is happy. . .we are all so happy. I am 51 and feel so much better now. I exercised regularly too. Thank God for better health and a better life. Thank you for your encouragement in my loss of 40 pounds."

When pounds accumulate with birthdays, obviously your food habits need changing. So, when the doctor advises you to reduce, make up your mind to switch from fattening fare to a pattern of eating which furnishes food nutrition but curbs calories.

IT'S NOT really a diet, but a food pattern that emphasizes the protective foods and slights non - essential foods. On a crash diet the pounds come off fast, but they come right back on.

Such diets keep you from facing up to the fact that you need to make a permanent change in your routine way of eating.

The best pattern is to eat three regular meals a day. Include a high-value protein in all three meals. At breakfast have an egg and a slice of toast, or cereal with milk, or lean meat, plus fruit and coffee.

At lunch, have cottage cheese (a half cup), or two ounces of lean meat, or a serving of fish, plus a salad or a vegetable, and skim milk. At dinner, include 3 to 4 ounces, cooked weight, of lean meat, fish or poultry.

Include daily a green leafy or yellow vegetable, plus a second vegetable and a salad, if desired. When you choose a starchy vegetable, leave off the bread.

You also need a pint of skim milk or buttermilk a day. Limit bread to 2 to 3 slices and margarine or butter to 2 or 3 half pats, each ¼ inch thick.

USE ONE tablespoon of vegetable oil for cooking and-or salad dressing. The low calorie type salad dressing can be added for trimmings. Also, dietetic jams and jellies may be included as desired.

On the above pattern you will be on the best diet in the world. You will look and feel younger and you will lose one to two pounds a week. When you change your food habits while you reduce, you can hold the weightline.

Send a self - addressed, long, stamped envelope for "Eat To Build Leanness." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Chamber Seeks Volunteers For Committee Posts

Each member of the Chamber of Commerce will receive a postcard with his July issue of the organization's bulletin on which he will be asked to indicate the standing committees with which he would like to serve in the new fiscal year that runs through June 30, 1967.

The members will be asked to return the postcards to the Chamber by Aug. 5. The postage is pre-paid and the cards already are addressed.

Committees for which members may "volunteer" are: Business relations, civic and community affairs, highways, industrial development, legislative affairs, membership, merchants' association, North Hancock County Development Association, public education, safety, transportation and travel and tourist promotion.

In a natoce accompanying the form, the Chamber explained its objectives will be achieved through "adequate financial support and active membership participation." It listed the prime objectives as: "To promote the East Liverpool area, to stimulate economic growth and to improve the business climate with actively - participating and informed members."

Boy Dies At Pool

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old Kenton boy, Harvey R. Allen, died Tuesday at Kenton municipal pool when mucus lodged in his windpipe, Hardin County Coroner Glenn Van Atta ruled.

The dollar sign comes from that of the old Spanish piece of eight, a figure 8 crossed by two lines which stood for the Pillars of Hercules.

Planners Adopt Two Resolutions

LISBON — Resolutions for long-range and short-range water and sewer planning for Columbiana County were adopted by the executive board of the county Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

The resolutions are part of the procedures required for federal assistance for proposed water and sewage projects.

The commission will meet Sept. 20 to hear details on a solid wastes survey considered for the county.

Dayton Feels Effects As City Workers Quit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The effects of a strike by some 850 city employes were felt quickly in this city of 265,000, with many garbage cans already overflowing.

The strike began Tuesday when most members of the 1100-member Dayton Public Service Employes Union defied a court order and walked off their jobs.

The city's 58 garbage trucks sat idle, the city incinerator was closed and one pumping station in the sewer system was shut down because of the manpower shortage. The closing of the pumping station forced the city to discharge raw sewage into the Miami River.

Sheriff's deputies tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to find three union leaders and serve them with court orders to attend a hearing today. The union officials, if present, would be asked in court to show cause why the union should not be held in contempt for its strike.

Common Pleas Court Judge Carl D. Kessler issued a restraining order Monday prohibiting the strike. City officials requested the order, citing a state law that forbids work stoppages by public employes.

The union struck after the city refused to re-open negotiations on wages in its current contract, which expires next Jan. 1. The wages run from $98 a week for laborers to $148 for heavy machinery operators.

Even the city water supply was affected by the strike. Skeleton crews at the water works were unable to continue, adding softening agents and fluoride.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was rocked by the letter from 12-year-old Danny.

His mother would not give him money to go to the movies with his school mates because he had been sick a great deal and his illness had cost the family so much. His mother told him that because of the doctor and hospital bills he had run up, she wasn't going to be able to buy any new clothes for a long time, and they'd have to forget about a new car.

Danny asked you how he could let his mother know that he loved her and that he was sorry he had caused them so much trouble.

I would like to address my remarks to Danny's mother:

Madame: If you feel that your son is too expensive, will you please send him to me? Being ill and confined to a hospital is difficult enough for a child who wants to be well and strong. To make him feel he is a financial burden is just about the cruelist thing I've ever heard of.

Headstones in the cemetery don't hug very well. I know. I have three of them. Believe me, I'd gladly wear rags for the rest of my life, and I'd give up riding in cars forever if I could have just one of my three sons in my arms this very moment.

You obviously don't appreciate it, but you have been blessed with God's greatest gift—the love of a child. It is a mystery to me, as I am sure it is to others, how you have managed to raise such a wonderful little boy. I'll bet he has a fine father. —TULSA.

Dear Tulsa: I received hundreds of letters expressing warm and wonderful feelings about Danny.

Since the vast majority of my mail deals with trouble and grief, it was refreshing to receive so many sensitive expressions of love and compassion. It's a joy to know that my column is being read by so many beautiful people. My thanks to all of you who wrote.

How Heavy Is Heavy?

Dear Ann: I'm a 17-year-old girl who is 5 feet 4 and weighs 122 pounds. The problem is that these girls at church keep telling me I ought to lose about 15 pounds. I've asked several of the boys what they think and they all say I'm just right.

The girls who keep telling me to lose weight look like flagpoles. Do you think they are jealous of my shape? Should I lose weight? — MARYLAND MISS.

Dear Miss: How do I know? You may be built better than this building, but through the mail it's very hard to tell.

A girl who is 5 feet 4 should be able to carry 122 pounds nicely—but again, it depends on where you are carrying them. See your family doctor and let him decide. He's a better authority than your girl friends.

Old Dog's New Tricks

Dear Ann: You are a pretty sharp dame, but every now and then you reasoning breaks down—as it did in your advice to "Chambermatron."

You advised a wife to pick up after her sloppy husband, but suggested that she train her sons to pick up after themselves so their wives wouldn't have to write to Ann Landers. How can a mother teach sons to be neat if their father is a slob?—ANOTHER CHAMBERMATRON.

Dear Another: Easy? No. But not impossible. Tell your sons that a wife can't retrain her husband because marriage is not a reform school. But she can — and should — train her children. And let them know they'd better not try to use their Dad's sloppiness as an excuse to be lazy because you will not tolerate it. And don't.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: If your hands hurt when you are mowing the lawn, or weeding in the garden, sew a thin piece of foam rubber on the palms of your garden gloves. This is easily done with a needle and thread.

It will do two things:

Help prevent aches, pains and abrasions (including blisters), and enable you to hold the gardening implement better.

Any old thin sponge will do. It does not need to be a new one.

So why don't you try it? Costs nothing but a few minutes of your time.

Love,
HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: It's true your great and wonderful nylon net can't sing "Dixie" . . . but it causes millions of women to sing "Hallelujah!"

J. K.

Dear Heloise: Did you ever send a check through the mail for a premium item and never receive that item?

I did, and that is why I now write the address of the place (from which I ordered the item) on the back of the check as I make it out.

Dear Heloise: I have bottom contour sheets and firm mattresses. How I suffered with broken fingernails, struggled and complained, until I learned a really simple method!

Now I just get the top corners of the sheet in place, and when I'm ready for the bottom, lift one corner of the mattress, put one foot on the springs, and rest the corner of the mattress on my knee while I set the bottom corners of the sheet in place.

Both hands are free for adjusting the sheet, and it is so much easier on me and my nails.

DOTTY.

And if you put DIAGONAL corners on first, the sheets go on twice as easily.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: Most mothers have small jars markes "Oil," "Cotton," etc., for baby.

If the mother will fill the jars half full of oil and put the cotton balls in with the oil, saturating them, she will always have a ready-made cleansing pad for baby.

MRS. WILLIAM L. MILLER

Dear Heloise: If you have a bracelet with one of those tricky round, spring clasps (and no personal maid!), there is a quick and easy way to fasten it on your wrist.

Take a strong pin or needle and stick it through the solid little ring at the end of the bracelet and into a mattress edge or upholstered chair arm.

Dear Heloise: When packing for a vacation recently, after most of the children's clothes (and ours) were packed, I found we needed a garment bag.

Then I had an idea. What was the matter with using my plastic raincoat?

I put it unbottoned on the bed, placed the clothes (on hangers) inside the coat, buttoned it up and picked the whole thing up by the hangers.

It worked beautifully.

And besides that, one always has a raincoat handy, without it taking up any extra room.

Brochure Aids Campaign For Beaver County Funds

All Beaver County firms and their employes are being urged to support this fall's United Fund drive, with more than $911,469 neede to finance 43 community agencies and services in 1967.

A brochure, "An Investment in People," was mailed this week to all firms with five or more employes. It points out that UF agencies serve everyone and, in turn, the United Fund drive needs the support of every corporation and employe in the county.

All firms were requested to become United Fund chapters by completing a Chapter Plan registration form. UF chapter firms agree not only to pledge a single corporate gift to the United Fund, but also to conduct an in - company employe solicitation. Last fall more than 300 county firms and their employes were UF chapters.

The UF chapter plan chairman, Charles R. Schmitt, superintendent of production at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., said: "Almost all of Beaver County's major firms and their employes support the United Fund drive. However, many smaller commercial firms give a corporate pledge, but do not solicit their employes. The United Fund campaign needs both corporate and employe contributions. Therefore, in addition to the mailing of our brochure, my committee personally will contact all major firms to become United Fund Chapters."

Serving on the 1966-67 Chapter Plan Committee, in addition to Schmitt, are Albert A. Bittcher, Richard Gorsuch, John S. Dunn, Edwin E. Ritts, John Wahl, W. E. Lynch Jr., Frank H. Batchelor, Paul W. Marshall and William J. Gordon.

The committee hopes to enroll at least 100 additional chapters between Aug. 1 and the beginning of the UF drive in mid-September.

More than 12 million Americans are employed in the manufacture, distribution, maintenance or commercial use of automotive vehicles.

Stormy Meal

After the storm subsided, he found a dead wild duck on his front lawn. Upon examination it was evident that the bird had been fatally pelted with a hailstone as it was flying.

7 Dover Policemen Quit In Pay Dispute

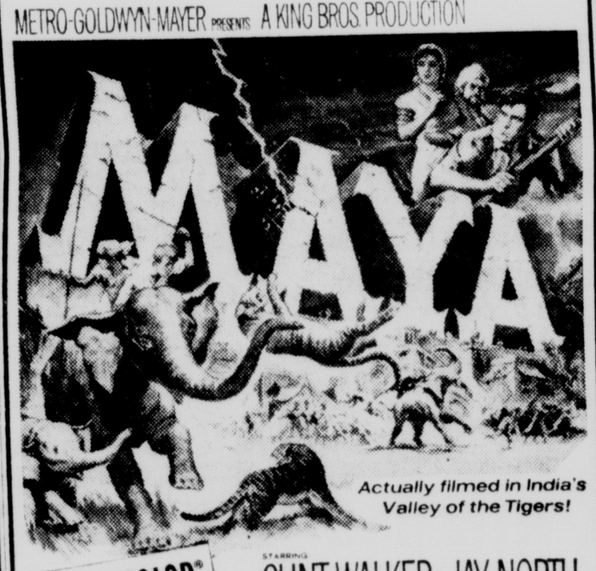

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — City council will consider a course of action this week in the wake of resignations by at least seven members of the city's 13-man police force. The resignations are effective Aug. 1.

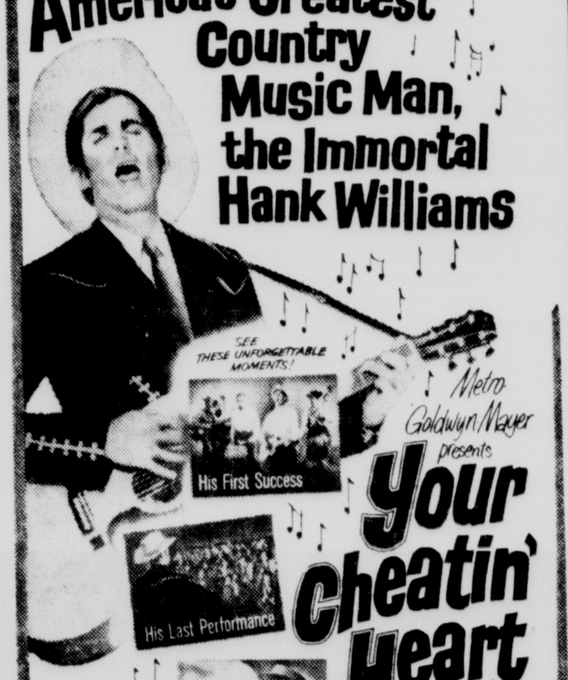

In a letter to council, the resigning police officers said a pay raise of July 11 was inadequate and indicated low salaries were the reason for their quitting.

Harps were used by the ancient Egyptians more than 12 centuries before the birth of Christ.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

New Angel For 'Peyton Place'

Ever since that cataclysmal day a year ago when Mia Farrow announced she was taking an ocean voyage with Frank Sinatra, the producers of A B C - TV's "Peyton Place" have been searching for a new Allison Mackenzie, or a reasonable facsimile.

Hal Humphrey

Even though Mia returned, and the producers were able to have her role as Allison written back into the script from her deathbed, no one around "Peyton Place" felt really secure. Such apprehension was confirmed some time later when Sinatra failed to include Mia on the guest list for his 50th birthday party (or so the story goes), and in a fit of despair she took a pair of shears and chopped off those lovely long locks which faithful viewers had come to identify her by.

SO, BEFORE the frost hits the pumpkins again in "Peyton Place" next September, Allison (and Mia) will travel into Boston, or limbo, which are one and same as far as the inhabitants of "Peyton Place" are concerned.

At one time the producers considered replacing Mia with another Allison, but now they've settled for Alicia, who has the same far-away look which apparently endeared Allison to the viewers. Nobody, including the "Peyton Place" writers, seems to know where Alicia comes from, and her mysterious origins are heightened by her appearing to be suffering some kind of mental retardation.

ALICIA will be played by 21-year-old Leigh Taylor - Young, whom producer Everett Chambers describs as having "great warmth and sweet angelic qualities not unlike Mia's," although he insists Leigh is in no sense supposed to be taking Mia's place.

Leigh's story of how she got the role of Alicia, a story she relates in a soft-voiced and almost breathless wide-eyed manner, would make several typical "Peyton Place" scripts by itself.

She was graduated from high school in Detroit, spent a summer shifting scenery and sweeping up at a Detroit little theater, then went to Northwestern University for a year and a half.

"I LEFT THERE," she says, in just a decibel above a whisper, "because, I lost the most wonderful teacher. I didn't want to go back when she left. My parents naturally were upset, and I spent four months at home thinking what to do, then went to New York."

Leigh wasn't aware until tipped off by a New Yorker that the apartment she'd rented was in Spanish Harlem, but she stayed.

More than a year of legging it to agents' offices finally paid off for Leigh with a part in "Three Bags Full," a Broadway show with Paul Ford which lasted only five weeks. Then a bout with pneumonia sent her to California to recuperate.

"I'D ONLY BEEN here a few days when my New York agent had his associate here call me. He took me over to read for this part and take a screen test. A few days later they called him and said I had it, but they still haven't told me much about the character of Alicia. I keep wondering why."

One of the reasons, of course, is that "Peyton Place" is under tighter security than our CIA in order to keep future miseries from the viewers until they are aired, and the other reason very likely is that the writers themselves haven't figured out Alicia's character yet.

THE WRITERS might do well to take a couple of clues from Leigh's own past, which, though short, seems to be studded with the unusual. For example, she says part of her childhood was spent on a farm near Fredonia, Kan., where her grandfather taught her the rudiments of rural sociology and an interest in comparative religion.

"It is a personal feeling, very hard to explain, but through him I learned that drama can be used for many worthwhile things," Leigh says.

There also is a sleek black Ferrari she drives, a gift from the Italian car maker for touring the country in one of his status buggies to promote the image of a young girl and a Ferrari.

Driving a motorcycle is another hobby. "Peyton Place" may never be the same again.

Further Questioning Due In Choking Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Mrs. Betty Ruth Ross, 28, returns from visiting relatives in Georgia, she faces more police questioning about the man who allegedly tried to strangle her.

Sgt. Russell Jackson of the homicide squad said Tuesday Detectives learned Mrs. Ross, mother of four, lied when she told officers she did not know the man involved in the July 7 police report.

Jackson said the man involved in the report had dated Mrs. Ross' mother-in-law and was a former mental patient.

Klan Rally Scheduled For Medina District

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan rally has been scheduled for this weekend near here, according to Klan organizer Parkie Scott of Oregonia.

Scott, who says he is with the Ku Klux Klan Association Association of America, said Tuesday a two-day rally is planned in retaliation for alleged harassment by Medina County sheriff's deputies at similar gatherings here last weekend.

Wellsville Band Waits 2 Parades

The Wellsville High School band will meet Friday at 6 p.m., in front of the high school in summer uniform to participate in the Highlandtown firemen's homecoming parade, according to John Pangle, director.

To participate in the Chester firemen's homecoming event, the band also will meet at 6 p.m. July 29 at the high school in summer uniform.

The director urges the attendance of high school band members each Monday for practice from 6 to 7 p. m. in front of the Beacom Memorial gym and the attendance of Junior High and elementary band members each Tuesday from 6 to 7 p. m. in front of the gym.

Officers Are Elected During Family Outing

The following officers were elected when the Barnhouse family reunion was held at Westville Lake Park: Richard Barnhouse, president; Howard Barnhouse, vice president; David Barnhouse, treasurer, and Mrs. Juanita Fuller, secretary.

Eighty-five were present for a picnic dinner and supper.

Earl Barnhouse of Bridgeport was honored as "senior man." He is also the family historian. Mrs. Arlee Barnhouse was recognized as "senior lady."

Miss Marla Ann Dawson, daughter of Mrs. Sandra Barnhouse Dawson and the late Merill Dawson, was the youngest child present. Mrs. Gertrude Early and family of Warren, Mich., came the greatest distance.

Test Runs Slated By New Jet Train

The Plain Dealer said today it has learned that the train is being built in secret at NYC's Collinwood Yards here.

The train is said to be capable of speeds up to 310 miles an hour, the Plain Dealer reported.

Local NYC officials have refused to discuss the experimental train or even to admit it exists.

The Bryan area was chosen, the Plain Dealer said, because of a new stretch of welded track there and because a secluded area is available.

Applications Taken In Flood Area Loans

The loans are for homeowners and businessmen who sustained damages following a record 10-inch rainfall July 12. The downpour caused more than $5 million damage.

School Issues Face Voters At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $66-million bond issue for school construction and a 4-mill, five-year operating levy will be on the ballot when Cleveland voters go to the polls this November.

The Cleveland Board of Education made the decision Tuesday night at a special session, following a public hearing on its 1967 budget for $85,522,116.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, William J. Williams (Billy), who passed away one year ago July 20, 1965.
May he always walk in sunshine
God's love around him glow.
For the happiness he gave us
No one will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose him
But he did not go alone
For part of us went with him
The day God called him home.
For he left a beautiful memory
A sorrow too great to be told
But to us who loved and lost him
His memory will never grow old.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

New Angel For 'Peyton Place'

Ever since that cataclysmal day a year ago when Mia Farrow announced she was taking an ocean voyage with Frank Sinatra, the producers of ABC-TV's "Peyton Place" have been searching for a new Allison Mackenzie, or a reasonable facsimile.

Hal Humphrey

Even though Mia returned, and the producers were able to have her role as Allison written back into the script from her deathbed, no one around "Peyton Place" felt really secure. Such apprehension was confirmed some time later when Sinatra failed to include Mia on the guest list for his 50th birthday party (or so the story goes), and in a fit of despair she took a pair of shears and chopped off those lovely long locks which faithful viewers had come to identify her by.

SO, BEFORE the frost hits the pumpkins again in "Peyton Place" next September, Allison (and Mia) will travel into Boston, or limbo, which are one and same as far as the inhabitants of "Peyton Place" are concerned.

When Allison fades away, but before Mia marries Sinatra, we will see another young, angelic-faced girl sort of waft onto the scene.

At one time the producers considered replacing Mia with another Allison, but now they've settled for Alicia, who has the same far-away look which apparently endeared Allison to the viewers. Nobody, including the "Peyton Place" writers, seems to know where Alicia comes from, and her mysterious origins are heightened by her appearing to be suffering some kind of mental retardation.

ALICIA will be played by 21-year-old Leigh Taylor - Young, whom producer Everett Chambers describs as having "great warmth and sweet angelic qualities not unlike Mia's," although he insists Leigh is in no sense supposed to be taking Mia's place.

Leigh's story of how she got the role of Alicia, a story she relates in a soft-voiced and almost breathless wide-eyed manner, would make several typical "Peyton Place" scripts by itself.

She was graduated from high school in Detroit, spent a summer shifting scenery and sweeping up at a Detroit little theater, then went to Northwestern University for a year and a half.

"I LEFT THERE," she says, in just a decibel above a whisper, "because, I lost the most wonderful teacher. I didn't want to go back when she left. My parents naturally were upset, and I spent four months at home thinking what to do, then went to New York."

Leigh wasn't aware until tipped off by a New Yorker that the apartment she'd rented was in Spanish Harlem, but she stayed.

"I've always been oblivious to danger, and I guess this saved me."

More than a year of legging it to agents' offices finally paid off for Leigh with a part in "Three Bags Full," a Broadway show with Paul Ford which lasted only five weeks. Then a bout with pneumonia sent her to California to recuperate.

"I'D ONLY BEEN here a few days when my New York agent had his associate here call me. He took me over to read for this part and take a screen test. A few days later they called him and said I had it, but they still haven't told me much about the character of Alicia. I keep wondering why."

One of the reasons, of course, is that "Peyton Place" is under tighter security than our CIA in order to keep future miseries from the viewers until they are aired, and the other reason very likely is that the writers themselves haven't figured out Alicia's character yet.

There are so many characters hanging about "Peyton Place" these days it is difficult to find enough character facets to go around.

THE WRITERS might do well to take a couple of clues from Leigh's own past, which, though short, seems to be studded with the unusual. For example, she says part of her childhood was spent on a farm near Fredonia, Kan., where her grandfather taught her the rudiments of rural sociology and an interest in comparative religion.

"It is a personal feeling, very hard to explain, but through him I learned that drama can be used for many worthwhile things," Leigh says.

There also is a sleek black Ferrari she drives, a gift from the Italian car maker for touring the country in one of his status buggies to promote the image of a young girl and a Ferrari.

Driving a motorcycle is another hobby. "Peyton Place" may never be the same again.

Further Questioning Due In Choking Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Mrs. Betty Ruth Ross, 28, returns from visiting relatives in Georgia, she faces more police questioning about the man who allegedly tried to strangle her.

Sgt. Russell Jackson of the homicide squad said Tuesday Detectives learned Mrs. Ross, mother of four, lied when she told officers she did not know the man involved in the July 7 police report.

She told officers at the time a man tried to choke her with a wire, but she managed to break loose and bite his hand.

Jackson said the man involved in the report had dated Mrs. Ross' mother-in-law and was a former mental patient.

Klan Rally Scheduled For Medina District

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan rally has been scheduled for this weekend near here, according to Klan organizer Parkie Scott of Oregonia.

Scott, who says he is with the Ku Klux Klan Association Association of America, said Tuesday a two-day rally is planned in retaliation for alleged harassment by Medina County sheriff's deputies at similar gatherings here last weekend.

Wellsville Band Waits 2 Parades

The Wellsville High School band will meet Friday at 6 p.m., in front of the high school in summer uniform to participate in the Highlandtown firemen's homecoming parade, according to John Pangle, director.

To participate in the Chester firemen's homecoming event, the band also will meet at 6 p.m. July 29 at the high school in summer uniform.

The director urges the attendance of high school band members each Monday for practice from 6 to 7 p. m. in front of the Beacom Memorial gym and the attendance of Junior High and elementary band members each Tuesday from 6 to 7 p. m. in front of the gym.

Officers Are Elected During Family Outing

The following officers were elected when the Barnhouse family reunion was held at Wellsville Lake Park: Richard Barnhouse, president; Howard Barnhouse, vice president; David Barnhouse, treasurer, and Mrs. Juanita Fuller, secretary.

Eighty-five were present for a picnic dinner and supper.

Earl Barnhouse of Bridgeport was honored as "senior man." He is also the family historian. Mrs. Arlee Barnhouse was recognized as "senior lady."

Miss Marla Ann Dawson, daughter of Mrs. Sandra Barnhouse Dawson and the late Merill Dawson, was the youngest child present. Mrs. Gertrude Early and family of Warren, Mich., came the greatest distance.

Test Runs Slated By New Jet Train

The Plain Dealer said today it has learned that the train is being built in secret at NYC's Collinwood Yards here.

The train is said to be capable of speeds up to 310 miles an hour, the Plain Dealer reported.

The train was described as a self-propelled car equipped with a special set of brakes and a false front.

Local NYC officials have refused to discuss the experimental train or even to admit it exists.

The Bryan area was chosen, the Plain Dealer said, because of a new stretch of welded track there and because a secluded area is available.

Applications Taken In Flood Area Loans

The loans are for homeowners and businessmen who sustained damages following a record 10-inch rainfall July 12. The downpour caused more than $5 million damage.

School Issues Face Voters At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $66-million bond issue for school construction and a 4-mill, five-year operating levy will be on the ballot when Cleveland voters go to the polls this November.

The Cleveland Board of Education made the decision Tuesday night at a special session, following a public hearing on its 1967 budget for $85,522,116.

If you are planning to use your Savings to pay for your extra needs . . . perish the thought. Here's an easier way . . . one which thousands have been using lately with good results. You have unused furniture in the attic, a piano or a bedstead, or you have a fur coat or a bicycle which no one is using.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather William J. Williams (Billy), who passed away one year ago July 20, 1965.
May he always walk in sunshine
God's love around him glow.
For the happiness he gave us
No one will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose him
But he did not go alone
For part of us went with him
The day God called him home.
For he left a beautiful memory
A sorrow too great to be told
But to us who loved and lost him
His memory will never grow old.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to express our heartfelt appreciation and sincere thanks for the many kindnesses extended to us during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Welch Funeral Home.

Junior Editors Quiz on CRAYONS

QUESTION: What are crayons made of?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The word "crayon" is often used to mean any drawing stick, which might be made of waxy or chalky substance, or even of charcoal. Artists often use a kind of stick called "pastel" containing chalk and pigmented colors, which give light and airy effects (A). School crayons, such as in (B), are more easily handled, have bright and shinier colors and don't rub off. These are made from mixtures of soap, wax, resin, as well as lampblack or pigments of the varions colors. It is possiole to make many beautiful pictures with school-type crayons. These will be more interesting if one color is put over another, rather than just laying on single colors. If you wanted the effect of sunlight on grass, for example, you might begin by laying in a light yellow to give the sunniness, and then lightly stroking green over this for the grass. The results may surprise you. The colors will seem to vibrate and become more lifelike and beautiful.

★ ★ ★

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1901, an intense heat wave struck the eastern United States. About 200 deaths due to the heat were reported in New York city alone.

On this date

In 1923, the notorious bandit Pancho Villa was assassinated in Mexico.

In 1944, American forces invaded Guam.

Five years ago — President Kennedy transferred to the Defense Department from the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization the responsibility for what he called a greatly increased civil defense effort.

One year ago — President Johnson and other top administration leaders opened the second White House conference on education.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Should Avoid Word Battles

Among the most distressing letters from parents I read are those which relate to wordy warfare with a child. I find myself sorry for both the child and parent. Now I feel myself suffering with the child and again with the parents. After reading several such letters in sequence I feel pretty low myself. So frequently I wish I could give the right advice but usually feel very inadequate. Some of these letters indicate that such word battles occur often on the same day and day after day; that the child and parent go around for hours mad at each other and rarely enjoy each other as precious persons.

Dr. Garry Myers

Although these letters may be about a youngster as young as 6, 8, or 10, most of them are around the teen-ager.

—:—

I FEEL sure this tragic parent - child warfare didn't begin all at once but had been growing for years. I keep wishing I could have talked with the parent years ago when I could have been more useful. But one cannot hope to have a parent and child start all over again.

Suppose you have had frequent word battles with your son or daughter. You might be strong enough in self -management to get a cease - fire next time you see a battle coming. You might, if you are able to silence your guns and say nothing back, however violent the volley you received.

You hardly can hope that your child will be first to cease-fire. Being in the more strategic position, you might be able to do so. Then you can be pretty sure the guns from the other side will quit firing pretty soon also. Indeed, they may quickly run out of ammunition.

You might be so powerful as to prevent another engagement. You might be so wise as to know what could start another volley from your child and be so skillful as to disperse the cause. You might effect a permanent cease fire. However, you will feel you are winning gloriously if there is only an occasional light volley shot at you again.

NOT EXPECTING so much of yourself, you might, however, be able to talk over in private with the father about the best possible ways to reduce the causes for possible future conflicts wih your child. Naturally you parents both will consider what you expect of your son or daughter in relation to your control of him or her and the resources you together have for acquiring desirable child cooperation and obedience, and for cultivating companionship with this child.

Why do many parents engage in wordy warfare with their children 7, 10 or 15 years of age? They had not effectively taught these youngsters to respect the little word "No" from the time they began to creep and toddle nor won their abiding affection and cooperation.

Being so eager to be reasonable, these parents trusted too much to talk. They were not decisive or consistent; they often repeated no or don't, feeling more angry and raising the voice higher on each succeeding repetition. When parents commanded the child after the age of 5 or 6 to do something and he began to ask why, they often tried unduly hard to explain.

By the age of 10 or 12 the child may rarely have heard a forbidding or requirement without starting an argument with his parents and putting them on the witness stand.

TO PREVENT this outrageous practice, be sure you are very reasonable in any command you make. If not sure the child understands, state your reason in the fewest possible words before making the command, then make it and say nothing more, expecting him to obey. Refuse to argue with any child over such matters. Don't talk back to him. Be too proud to fight with him.

My bulletins "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," "How to Teach Child to Help at Home," and "A Parent's Prayer" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Dravo Report Shows Drop In Net Income

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Dravo Corp., a heavy construction and engineering company, Tuesday reported net income of $1,945,343 for the first half of 1966, equal to $1.87 a common share.

This compared with earnings of $2,296,313, or $2.22 a share, in the same period last year. Revenue was down to $60,598,082 from $62,460,819 a year ago.

There are approximately 300,000 words in the English language; the average educated persons uses from 3,000 to 5,000 and Shakespeare used 15,000.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Should Avoid Word Battles

Among the most distressing letters from parents I read are those which relate to wordy warfare with a child. I find myself sorry for both the child and parent. Now I feel myself suffering with the child and again with the parents. After reading several such letters in sequence I feel pretty low myself. So frequently I wish I could give the right advice but usually feel very inadequate. Some of these letters indicate that such word battles occur often on the same day and day after day; that the child and parent go around for hours mad at each other and rarely enjoy each other as precious persons.

Dr. Garry Myers

Although these letters may be about a youngster as young as 6, 8, or 10, most of them are around the teen-ager.

I FEEL sure this tragic parent - child warfare didn't begin all at once but had been growing for years. I keep wishing I could have talked with the parent years ago when I could have been more useful. But one cannot hope to have a parent and child start all over again.

Suppose you have had frequent word battles with your son or daughter. You might be strong enough in self -management to get a cease - fire next time you see a battle coming. You might, if you are able to silence your guns and say nothing back, however violent the volley you received.

You hardly can hope that your child will be first to cease-fire. Being in the more strategic position, you might be able to do so. Then you can be pretty sure the guns from the other side will quit firing pretty soon also. Indeed, they may quickly run out of ammunition.

You might be so powerful as to prevent another engagement. You might be so wise as to know what could start another volley from your child and be so skillful as to disperse the cause. You might effect a permanent cease fire. However, you will feel you are winning gloriously if there is only an occasional light volley shot at you again.

NOT EXPECTING so much of yourself, you might, however, be able to talk over in private with the father about the best possible ways to reduce the causes for possible future conflicts wih your child. Naturally you parents both will consider what you expect of your son or daughter in relation to your control of him or her and the resources you together have for acquiring desirable child cooperation and obedience, and for cultivating companionship with this child.

Why do many parents engage in wordy warfare with their children 7, 10 or 15 years of age? They had not effectively taught these youngsters to respect the little word "No" from the time they began to creep and toddle nor won their abiding affection and cooperation.

Being so eager to be reasonable, these parents trusted too much to talk. They were not decisive or consistent; they often repeated no or don't, feeling more angry and raising the voice higher on each succeeding repetition. When parents commanded the child after the age of 5 or 6 to do something and he began to ask why, they often tried unduly hard to explain.

By the age of 10 or 12 the child may rarely have heard a forbidding or requirement without starting an argument with his parents and putting them on the witness stand.

TO PREVENT this outrageous practice, be sure you are very reasonable in any command you make. If not sure the child understands, state your reason in the fewest possible words before making the command, then make it and say nothing more, expecting him to obey. Refuse to argue with any child over such matters. Don't talk back to him. Be too proud to fight with him.

Dravo Report Shows Drop In Net Income

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Dravo Corp., a heavy construction and engineering company, Tuesday reported net income of $1,945,343 for the first half of 1966, equal to $1.87 a common share.

This compared with earnings of $2,296,313, or $2.22 a share, in the same period last year. Revenue was down to $60,598,082 from $62,460,819 a year ago.

Robert Dickey III, president, atrributed the declines to financing costs, shortages of skilled manpower and delays in obtaining materials.

There are approximately 300,000 words in the English language; the average educated persons uses from 3,000 to 5,000 and Shakespeare used 15,000.
